No Big Barrier To Saskatchewan Signing Plan

REGINA (CP)—Premier T. C. Douglas said today there now were "no fundamental differences left that would preclude the signing of an agreement between ourselves and the federal government" for a new set-up in Dominion-Provincial relations.

Discussing the recent meeting of the co-ordinating committee of the Dominion-Provincial Conference at Ottawa, from which he returned this morning, Mr. Douglas told a press conference that so far as Saskatchewan's main financial points were concerned, "we think they are going to be met."

These, he said, included grants to the provinces based on fiscal need and provision for self-employed persons, such as Saskatchewan's 195,000 farmers.

"The meeting of the co-ordinating committee was marked by a very frank exchange of views," he said. "I think the area of agreement was considerably enlarged and the area of disagreement more clearly defined.

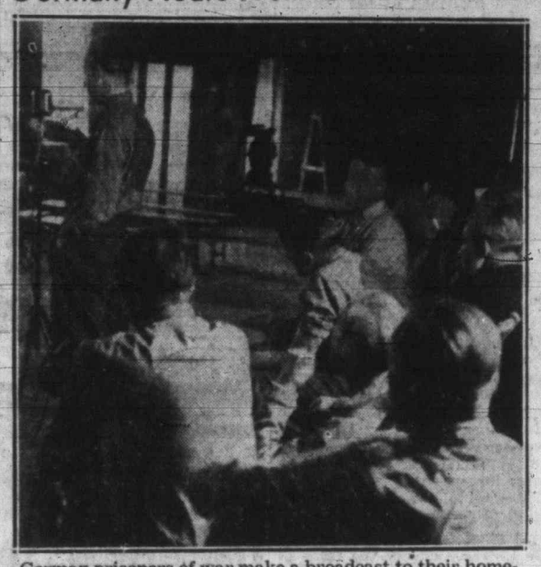

AT CLOSEST POINT

"I think we are a good bit closer to a settlement than we have been so far."

As to the main points, "these include a Dominion grant based on fiscal need and provision for self-employed persons on the same basis as ordinary employees who become unemployed."

The leader of Canada's only C.C.F. government said he must decline to comment on the attitude taken by other provinces at the conference, which was adjourned until April 25.

Germany Hears From Canada

German prisoners of war make a broadcast to their homeland from a camp near Montreal. This is part of the CBC's work in reorienting former Nazis in the ways of democracy. The broadcasts may be heard every afternoon over short-wave station CBFW on the 49-metre band. There are still some 35,000 Germans held in Canada. They are now preparing for removal to Britain, the first stage of their repatriation.

Russia Drops Her Demand British Evacuate Greece

LONDON (CP)—Russia agreed tonight to drop her demand for Security Council action against the British forces in Greece—with the understanding Britain would withdraw her troops from there as soon as possible.

Russia had complained to the United Nations' Organization that the presence of British troops in Greece endangered the peace.

The sudden modification in the Soviet stand came after another acrimonious exchange between the British and Soviet representatives, Ernest Bevin and Andrei Vishinsky, who first debated the question last Friday.

Foreign Secretary Bevin declared the Soviet Vice-Commissar lied when he charged British troops with protecting Rightist forces in Greece. Edward R. Stettinius, United States delegate, moved to dismiss the charge, and both France and China, the remaining permanent members of the Security Council, supported Mr. Stettinius.

"We are not here to vote each other down," Mr. Stettinius told the Council. He said the United States government was satisfied the British troops in Greece did not constitute a situation likely to endanger peace.

No Reasonable Ground

"The government of the United States is satisfied there is no reasonable ground for a belief that the presence of British troops in Greece can be regarded as constituting a situation likely to endanger world peace and security," the U.S. delegate said.

" propose that we thank the governments of Great Britain, the Soviet Union and Greece for their statements and that no further action be taken."

By such a decision, Mr. Stettinius said: "We are not imputing anything to Great Britain."

"It has not threatened international peace and security, in my opinion," he said.

Following Mr. Stettinius, Foreign Minister Georges Bidault of France said he could not see that the British troops were "a menace to peace in the sense envisaged in the charter of the United Nations."

Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo of China endorsed Mr. Stettinius' move to dismiss the Russian complaint.

Warm Exchange

In a hot argument over Russia's demand for "immediate withdrawal" of the troops on the ground that they endangered international peace, Mr. Bevin declared:

"Mr. Vishinsky says that our troops in Greece are protecting the Right—I give the lie to that."

He spoke after M. Vishinsky in a 90-minute statement had challenged Mr. Bevin's friendliness toward Russia in telling the Council last Friday that the "real danger" to world peace was Moscow propaganda against Britain.

"I'm not unfriendly toward Russia," Mr. Bevin said in his detailed rebuttal, delivered for the most part in a calm, slow voice. "I just want equal treatment."

He did not say what equality he had in mind.

Mr. Bevin declared that in the charge brought against Britain by Russia "the honor of my country and the British Commonwealth is involved."

He denied emphatically that Britain was in any way endangering the peace of the world and declared that if M. Vishinsky really believed it was, then M. Bevin should not be in the Security Council.

"This charge has caused bitterness in the hearts of the British people," he said, "because it is not true."

M. Bevin spoke about 40 minutes.

"Have I, my government and the British people taken action in Greece or elsewhere to endanger the peace of Europe?" he asked in conclusion. "On that I ask an answer. . . . I plead with you either to absolve us or brand us as guilty."

M. Vishinsky had told the Council earlier that "nothing worse could have been said" than Mr. Bevin's statement last Friday that propaganda from Moscow was a danger to peace.

"Does he think that his declaration is in harmony with what he said about the friendship between two nations (Russia and Great Britain)?

New York Facing Near Famine By Tugboat Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—A strike of 3,500 American Federation of Labor tugboat workers in New York harbor, which Mayor O'Dwyer estimated would cut off 80 per cent of New York City's normal flow of fuel and about half its food, began today.

About 35,000 members of the A.F.L. International Longshoremen's Union backed up the tugboat workers in their wage dispute with the New York Tugboat Exchange.

Troopships, which are served by army tugs, will not be affected by the strike. Railroad-owned tug and a few craft owned by two oil companies also were expected to continue operating.

As Mayor O'Dwyer planned for emergency distribution of supplies, his labor adviser and a federal conciliator arranged meetings with union and company officials today in an attempt to settle the dispute.

The tugboat workers seek a 40-hour week in place of the present 48 and hourly wage raises.

1,450,000 NOW IDLE

This dispute and a walkout in the brass industry boosted the total United States workers idle in labor troubles to about 1,450,000. Accounting for the bulk of this figure are the steel strike, 750,000, General Motors 175,000 and electrical workers 200,000.

In Washington, some sort of a showdown was expected this week in the steel wage-price battle. It was anticipated the White House would bring forth a new pricing formula which would enable the industry to pay the 18½-cent-hourly increase recommended by President Truman and thus send 750,000 C.I.O. United Steelworkers back to their jobs.

The C.I.O. Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' Union started a work stoppage in the brass industry today, with 14,400 members affected in Connecticut and at Buffalo, N.Y. The struck plants are those of the Chase Brass and Copper Company, with 3,600 employees at Waterbury, Conn., and the American Brass Company, employing 2,200 at Buffalo and 8,600 at Waterbury, Ansonia and Torrington, Conn. The union demands a 30 per cent wage increase.

HOLIDAY FOR PUPILS

Some 90,000 St. Louis public school pupils may be sent home as a result of a strike of 400 members of the A.F.L. Custodians and Matrons' Union. The dispute arose over a demand for wage increases averaging $20 a month. Lack of heat probably would force the closing of 135 public schools.

Jap Ex-General Loses Last Appeal

TOMOYUKI YAMASHITA

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Supreme Court refused today to save Japanese General Yamashita from death on the gallows. Chief Justice Harlan Stone delivered the 6 to 2 decision. The court overruled Yamashita on all points.

Chief Justice Stone's 7,000 word opinion declared:

"It appears that the order convening the commission (of five generals who tried Yamashita) was a lawful order, that the commission was lawfully constituted, that petitioner (Yamashita) was charged with violation of the law of war and that the commission had authority to proceed with the trial, and in doing so did not violate any military, statutory or constitutional command."

Yamashita was convicted by the U.S. Military Commission in Manila of condoning uncounted atrocities by his invading troops in the Phillipines.

SAID AUTHORITY LACKING

He was the first Pacific war leader to be tried as a war criminal. In appealing to the Supreme Court he contended the military commission had no authority to try him.

Chief Justice Stone said: "We have considered, but find it unnecessary to discuss, other contentions (by Yamashita) which we find to be without merit."

Last Dec. 7 the military commission in Manila decreed death by hanging for Yamashita.

The Japanese protested that "my conscience is clear." He was locked in a Manila prison while three of the United States army lawyers who defended him before the commission were flown to Washington to argue his appeals.

War Brides Reach U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — Storm-tossed and exhausted, the first group of British war brides of U.S. servicemen arrived here today after one of the worst Atlantic crossing of the winter aboard the U.S. army transport Argentia. A total of 451 women and 175 children made the nine-day crossing.

'Breaking Up Fast' Captain Radios As Rescue Ship Nears

KETCHIKAN, Alaska (CP)—A ship carrying 448 persons is aground on the rocks south of Seward, Alaska, and breaking up fast, the district U.S. Coastguard office was told this afternoon.

Capt. Chris C. Trondsen, master of the liner, radioed the information to the Coastguard office.

All the passengers were still on board and the engine room and hold number 3 were full of water, his radio message said. The captain also messaged he was uncertain of his position. Previous messages had indicated the vessel was aground on Puget Cape and it was snowing heavily.

The coast guard cutter Onondaga, racing from Cordova under full draft, was expected to reach the scene hourly. The Alaska Steamship Company offices at Seward, where the Yukon left Sunday afternoon, had reported 324 passengers aboard, along with a normal crew complement of 124.

Navy officials here reported that the navy tug Curb, accompanying two minesweepers on a trip from Kodiak here, had been ordered to turn off course and hurry to the wreck scene.

Gales were probably sweeping the immediate vicinity of the wreck, the coast guard here reported. Ninety - mile - an - hour winds were sweeping Bering Sea to the westward.

earlier reports had placed the Yukon aground on Cape Puget, on the southeast coast of Prince William Sound. The Cape juts into the sea in an area where treacherous currents flow, with glaciers coming down to the water nearby.

A few hours earlier, however, the Alaska steamship office at Seward said its information was that the ship was then in no immediate danger A message receved at Anchorge said it was snowing heavily there.

The Yukon, which sailed from Steward, was south bound to Valdez on the way to Seattle when she hit the rocks.

5 Inches of Snow In Vancouver Hampers Traffic

VANCOUVER (CP)—An all-night snowstorm in the higher residential districts of Vancouver and Burnaby municipality worried transportation company officials and left from three to five inches of fresh snow in various parts of the district.

B.C. Electric Railway Company officials kept their streetcar tracks open with two sweepers operating throughout Sunday night. A crew of 90 extra men was also employed from 8 o'clock Sunday night until after midnight, clearing switches. They reported trouble first developed in the Dunbar, Sasamat and South Granville districts, but that streetcar service was not seriously delayed.

Heaviest snowfall was in those areas and in south Vancouver and Burnaby were about five inches fell.

The heavy wet snow caused one power circuit to go out for a short time in north Burnaby when trees fell across the wires. One power pole fell at Balsam Street and Marine Drive, and several street light wires were broken by the snow.

About three inches of snow was recorded at the Vancouver airport on Sea Island.

Stalin to Receive Mission From Iran

TEHRAN (AP)—The Tehran press announced today that Generalissimo Stalin had advised the Iranian government he is ready to receive a mission appointed by Premier Ahmed Qavam to discuss Iranian charges of Soviet intervention in Azerbaijan Province.

The projected discussions would be in line with the recent action of the United Nations' Security Council in London, which referred the dispute to leaders of the two governments for direct negotiation.

Iranian newspapers also printed the text of a note addressed by Stalin to Ahmed Qavam on the latter's accession to the premiership expressing hope for increasingly friendly relations between the two countries.

Empire Conference On Trade To Precede Washington Talks

LONDON (CP) — Arrangements have been completed for an imperial trade conference opening in London May 15 as a preliminary to the International Trade Conference in Washington, it was learned here today.

It was understood the principal discussions will be on the future of imperial preference, which is expected to be raised at the Washington conference.

As in the case of the imperial meeting before the San Francisco Conference of the United Nations last year, the London trade conference will not be a "ganging up" of the United Kingdom and the Dominions against the United States or any other country, but rather an effort to obtain a frank exchange of views.

At one time there was an idea that this commonwealth meeting would be held in Ottawa where a 1932 imperial conference established imperial preferences, but now London has been decided on as the meeting place and the Dominions have been asked to have delegates here for the opening May 15.

TO LESSEN BARRIERS

In the conference, the various ministers of finance and commerce of the commonwealth countries, together with their department chiefs, will make a detailed examination of the structure of imperial preferences in relation to the problem of international trade barriers.

The discussions are expected to last several weeks resulting, it is hoped, in a plan to be used as a bargaining counter in the forthcoming international trade parley called by the United States. At the latter meeting the 15 principal trading countries of the world will endeavor to work out a scheme ensuring a freer flow of the world's commerce with the removal of restrictions.

ATOMIC HEROINE — Hitler might have had an atomic bomb if he hadn't persecuted Jews, and among them, Dr. Lise Meitner, eminent Austrian physicist. While engaged on atomic research, with the splitting of the atom within her grasp, she was exiled from Germany as a non-Aryan. She is credited with providing important data which greatly aided Allied scientists in speeding production of the atomic bomb. Dr. Meitner has just arrived in the U.S. This picture was taken on her arrival.

RADAR-CONTROLLED SHIPMENTS BY AIR?—Huge, pilotless freight planes, like the one in sketch above, are seen as real possibilities for speedy transportation of cargoes between cities. As visualized, the crewless cargo ships will be completely controlled from the ground by radar. Diagram at bottom shows how beam signals, set up by ground transmitters set suitable distances apart, would guide the planes along their routes.

Baby-Faced Slayer Sought in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—An alarm for a "pasty-complexioned baby-faced" man went out to New York City's patrolmen today in connection with the slaying of Rose Palermo, 15.

The nude and battered body of the girl was found Saturday in the hallway of an abandoned Brooklyn building. Police said she had been seized while en route home from a dance and had been dragged from the street into a building.

Dr. M. E. Martin, King's County deputy chief medical examiner, said she was "unquestionably raped" and died of "manual strangulation."

Police said the man sought had been annoying women in the neighborhood.

Police found several strands of brown hair clutched between the dead girl's fingers.

Naval Attendance 3,500,000 at Shows By Film Society

At attendance of over 3,500,000 naval personnel at moving picture shows at sea and at naval bases, including Esquimalt, was shown by the R.C.N. Film Society in its last wartime report to Hon. Douglas C. Abbott, Minister of National Defence for Naval Services.

At the peak of its activity, around V-E Day, the society had 13 theatres in operation, including two at Esquimalt. The shore theatres accounted for nearly 3,000,000 of the three years' attendance figures.

By June 1, 1945, 190 Canadian warships were regularly using the society's programs. Future plans call for the work of the society being taken over by a committee of permanent R.C.N. officers.

The society hopes to continue the operation of 35 mm. theatres at the two main naval bases of Esquimalt and Halifax and the renting of 16 mm. film programs to seagoing ships.

Reduced operations of the society and disposal of surplus assets have made it possible for a cheque for $40,000 to be presented to the Canadian Naval Benevolent Fund. An additional $10,000 to be presented to the fund at a later date will leave the society with resources of about $15,000 considered adequate for carrying on peacetime operations.

William Ricardo Dies

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 1.30 at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel for William Crawley Ricardo, 82, of Vernon, who died here Saturday.

A native of Minchinhampton, Eng., and a resident of British Columbia for 51 years, the late Mr. Ricardo was well known in Vernon district. He was manager of the Coldstream Ranch and was instrumental in the development of an irrigation system in that district.

He came to Canada in 1885 and served overseas in World War I as a captain. He lived in Vernon district until 1944.

Dean S. H. Elliott will officiate and interment will be in the family plot at Ross Bay.

War Veteran Piper Wins Cup Contest

Just back from a long stretch of service overseas, Pipe-Maj. Archie McMillan of the 1st Battalion pipe band of the Canadian Scottish Regiment, won the Tinkers' Cup competition at the Vancouver Island Pipers' Society meeting in the British Public Schools' Club, Saturday night.

Announcement was made by Capt. C. R. Wilson, president, that competition at the annual reunion will be limited to side drum with piper accompaniment, original composition competition, and competition of winners of the Tinkers' Cup for the grand prize.

Dr. Frank S. Hogg, who was astronomer at the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory here for three years, has been appointed professor of astronomy at the University of Toronto and director of the David Dunlap Observatory, which has the largest telescope in the British Empire.

3 Million-Ton Drop In Ocean Trade Here; Coastal Up Million

Wartime yearly average of foreign trade shipping in and out of Victoria had dropped over 3,000,000 net tons by 1944 from the 1938 net tonnage figure, according to figures issued by the Transportation and Public Utilities Branch of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. On the other hand, coastal shipping had increased by nearly 1,000,000 net tons over 1938 shipping.

In foreign trade shipping, sharpest drop came between 1940 and 1941, while, in coastal trade, the increase was greatest during those years.

In foreign trade, year ending March 31, figures showed: 3,425 arrivals, totaling 4,757,322 net tons, and 3,603 departures, totaling 4,624,960 net tons; in 1938; 2,848 arrivals, totaling 4,786,766 net tons, and 2,878 departures, totaling 4,621,982 net tons, in 1939; 2,997 arrivals, totaling 4,454,597 net tons; and 2,975 departures, totaling 4,358,150 net tons, in 1940; 1,703 arrivals, totaling 2,329,200 net tons, and 1,738 departures, totaling 2,280,726 net tons, in 1941.

Foreign trade, year ending Dec. 31: 1,432 arrivals, totaling 1,965,200 net tons, and 1,357 departures, totaling 1,826,385 net tons in 1941; 1,159 arrivals, totaling 1,345,614 net tons, and 1,195 departures, totaling 1,472,787 net tons, in 1942; 1,077 departures, totaling 1,245,191 net tons, and 1,107 departures, totaling 1,491,797 net tons, in 1943; 1,062 arrivals, totaling 1,324,211 net tons, and 1,107 departures, totaling 1,579,819 net tons, in 1944.

COASTAL PICTURE GOOD

In coastal trade, year ending March 21, figures showed: 2,962 arrivals, totaling 2,362,910 net tons, and 2,918 departures, totaling 2,326,953 net tons, in 1938; 2,773 arrivals, totaling 2,288,607 net tons, and 2,770 departures, totaling 2,257,638 net tons, in 1939; 2,964 arrivals, totaling 2,061,646 net tons, and 3,040 departures, totaling 2,155,577 net tons, in 1940; 4,041 arrivals, totaling 3,256,721 net tons, and 4,006 departures, totaling 3,305,195 net tons, in 1941.

Coastal trade, year ending Dec. 31: 3,765 arrivals, totaling 3,155,212 net tons, and 3,840 departures, totaling 3,294,027 net tons, in 1941; 3,818 arrivals, totaling 3,256,968 net tons, and 3,804 departures, totaling 3,165,808 net tons, in 1942; 3,753 arrivals, totaling 3,501,628 net tons, and 3,707 departures, totaling 3,279,370 net tons, in 1943; 3,501 arrivals, totaling 3,476,028 net tons, and 3,446 departures, totaling 3,206,950, in 1944.

Converted Corvettes

Plans of Union Steamships Limited, announced in a call for tenders for conversion of the Castle class corvettes Hespeler, St. Thomas and Leaside, indicate the three vessels will be ready for service as coastal service passenger-cargo ships by July.

The company advises tenders must be in not later than Feb. 11, and that conversion of the vessels must not take more than four months from the time of delivery to the repair yards. It is estimated reconversion of the three vessels, recently purchased from War Assets Corporation, will cost approximately $1,000,000.

Constellation Sets New Coast-to-Coast Record

NEW YORK (AP) — A new coast-to-coast commercial flight record of seven hours, 27 minutes and 4 seconds was set Sunday by a TWA Constellation plane on a non-stop flight from Burbank, Calif., to La Guardia Field.

The giant airliner carried 45 passengers and a crew of seven. Previous west-to-east-coast commercial flight record was 11 hours and 55 minutes also set by TWA with a Stratoliner in July, 1940.

Safecrackers Get $45 in Restaurant

Along with the theft of $45 in small change from a safe which had been broken open at the Canada Cafe, 1626 Government Street, Saturday, city police today were investigating the theft of $151 from a drawer in a tailor shop operated by A. Scurrah at 604 Yates Street, over the week-end.

The Canada Cafe safe-cracking was reported to police by Wong Wah Sunday morning, and could have occurred any time since last Friday when the restaurant was closed for alterations.

Detective Angus Munro said the burglars had sawed a hole in the front door and had taken the small safe into the basement of the premises. A hole had been chopped in the safe and the mechanism and handle had been smashed.

The theft from the tailor shop was believed to have taken place during the day Saturday while the premises were open.

Thieves, who broke into a salvage collection warehouse across from the Sidney Rubber Roofing plant over the week-end, ransacked the office and stole a number of tools and a first aid kit.

A small radio and three rings were stolen by thieves who broke into a room in the Waverley Apartments, Douglas Street, occupied by Doris Beeman. The theft was discovered Sunday afternoon.

Sunken Motor Boat Found in Sea Here

A submerged 20-foot motor launch, which may be American-owned, was discovered in the sea off the Dominion quarantine station at William Head Sunday, and Canadian customs officials are today contacting the U.S. consul here to see if reports have been received of any missing persons on the U.S. side.

The boat was discovered by Chris Rhode, William Head, who first noticed the vessel when he saw about four feet of its bow sticking out of the water. The housing was gone from the vessel which bore no name.

Mr. Rhode thought it unlikely anyone was missing from it, as the boat had the appearance of being under repair at the time. Nuts on the cylinder head had not been tightened, he said, and believed it possible someone had been working on the engine while the boat was tied up, and the vessel was washed away while the worker was absent.

Delegates Urge More Agriculturists, Schools On Farming

The 10-man advisory board of Farmers' Institutes of British Columbia, representing 7,000 farmers throughout the province, buckled down to business here today at the first session of a three-day convention at which 140 resolutions will be considered.

William Harrison, representing the Kamloops division, was chosen chairman of the convention, and J. Woodburn, representing the Shuswap-Okanagan division, was named vice-chairman.

During the morning session 12 resolutions were dealt with.

Resolutions calling for re-establishment of provincial government grants formerly made to smaller agricultural fairs, inauguration of week-long winter classes for farmers, establishment of agricultural schools in the interior of the province and in the Peace River district, legislation to require sheep and goat farmers to have their stock tended by herders, protests against any change in the present price of service charge made by the Pacific Glucose Refinery Ltd., institution of a policy of calfhood vaccination similar to that practiced in Alberta, and appointment of a considerably-increased number of district agriculturists, were carred.

A resolution calling for action to tie more closely the work of the Farmers' Institutes and the B.C. Federation of Agriculture was lost on a show of hands.

JAPS DEPORTATION

Resolutions yet to be considered include one calling for the provincial government to use all possible influence in Ottawa to have Japanese deported to Japan, whether born in this country or elsewhere.

Other resolutions yet to be dealt with call for extension and increasing bounties on predatory animals; establishment of a free cancer clinic similar to the tuberculosis traveling clinic; expansion of tourist trade advertising; completion of a road from McBride to Prince George; extension of the P.G.E. to Vancouver and the Peace River; abolition of daylight saving time; checking of egg-candling done by wholesalers; request be made to the War Assets Corporation to make available light-landing barges for communities with acute transportation problems; payment of old-age pensions to all persons of 65 years, and extension of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act to B.C.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE

OFFICE RACKET PROVES COSTLY

Right in your own office, a "racket" is probably going on every working day. This racket is not a "job for the police"—but just plain ordinary noise that cuts down efficiency and causes costly errors. In fact, a Johns-Manville test shows that clattering typewriters, clicking heels and buzzing bells can make an office 40 per cent noisier than the average busy street.

But office noise can be controlled. Johns-Manville Acoustical Materials literally absorb noise like a sponge—help to reduce errors — increase output.

Scores of offices, schools and hospitals have cut down noise — greatly increased efficiency and comfort—by installing Johns-Manville Acoustical Materials. If you have a noise problem, send for free J-M Sound Control booklet. Canadian Johns-Manville, 199 Bay St., Toronto.

Queen Elizabeth Brings 12,000 Happy Servicemen, Women Home

NEW YORK (CP) — Twelve thousands of the most cheerful people in the world are almost home today—and as their trains roll toward Moose Jaw and Vancouver, Quebec City and Toronto, they're singing, swapping stories about their plans and just grinning at each other.

They are Canadian servicemen and women, veterans of years of war in Britain and Europe, who arrived here Sunday aboard the repatriation liner Queen Elizabeth after a rough seven-day ocean crossing from Southampton.

All told, there were more than 10,000 army personnel from miscellaneous units, 1,440 R.C.A.F. men, a few navy men and several hundred service women in the movement.

DIEPPE MEN RETURN

Sprinkled through the ranks of Canadian army personnel were veterans of the 1942 Dieppe raid, twice - decorated campaigners, paratroopers who dropped into and others who had seen action from Naples to Apeldoorn.

Administering to the spiritual needs of the returning servicemen were 47 padres of the Pro/France a few hours before D-Day testant, Roman Catholic and Jewish faiths, while 63 medical officers were prepared to look after their health.

Entertainment was in the hands of a large number of Canadian army show men and women who had given performances in Britain, France Belgium, Holland and Germany.

Mixed in among the khaki battle dress of privates and non-commissioned officers was the gold braid of a few senior officers, notably Brig. H. P. Bell-Irvine, D.S.O. and Bar, of Vancouver, former commander of the 10th Brigade in Canada's 4th Armored Division.

Among the few units aboard were three companies of engineers, the 5th Field Company, the 20th Field Park Company and the 10th Field Park Company.

One civilian passenger who served with the armed forces overseas was Supervisor Frank Anders of Vancouver, a Canadian Legion auxiliary services worker. Mr. Anders, a veteran of the First Great War, was in charge of Canadian Legion entertainment in Britain and on the continent in the Second Great War.

Another veteran of the First Great War was Cpl. James Weir of Crow's Nest, B.C., who went overseas for a second time in February, 1940. One son served for six years in the Royal Marines and a daughter served with the Queen Alexandra Nursing Services.

Among the Dieppe veterans was CSM. C. McLellan of Winnipeg, who was mentioned in dispatches for his work with the Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders of Canada.

Cpl. David Dixon of Vancouver was wounded three times while fighting with the Seaforth Highlanders in Italy.

Even army mascots were represented in the movement. At least three dogs were passengers on the Elizabeth.

Capt. Verity Sweeny, C.W.A.C., of Vancouver, owned one of the dogs, which had the blessing of the ship's officers.

One of the happiest soldiers arriving was Pte. E. G. Pitre, R.C.E., St. Boniface, Man. He was greeter by his sister Rita, who had traveled from Washington to meet the ship. Miss Pitre has been employed in the British embassy at Washington for thhee years.

U.B.C. Student Body To Raise $500,000 For Memorial Gym

VANCOUVER, (CP) — Students at the University of British Columbia have launched the greatest campaign of their history—a campaign dedicated to raise $500,000 for a permanent war memorial for the university's dead of the two Great Wars.

Plans call for the erection of a gymnasium on the campus. A "Hall of Heroes" room in the building will house the names of all U.B.C. students and staff members who gave their lives in the two great world conflicts.

To start the campaign on a successful note, Allan Ainsworth, student body president, announced Saturday that U.B.C. undergraduates had pledged themselves to raise $100,000 of the total.

To realize their goal, the students plan a mammoth three-week drive on the campus featuring a "Mile of Quarters" race between the various faculties.

Brochures explaining the details of the campaign have been mailed to all university alumni and to prominent business men throughout the province.

The tri-weekly student newspaper increased its number from 6,000 to 15,000, Saturday, distributing its extra copies at strategic business sections of Vancouver, to publicize the fund.

Building Doubled In January, 1946

Building in Greater Victoria for January, 1946, was more than double the building in the area during the first month of last year, figures released by municipal building inspector's departments showed today. For the first month of this year permits valued at $626,000 were issued compared to permits for $276,685 for the same period last year.

Saanich showed the biggest jump with 86 permits issued this month for $220,645 compared with 46 permits for January, 1945, for $56,240. Value of houses for which permits were issued this January was nearly five times as great as the value in January, 1941, with 46 houses being started this year at a cost of $198,100, and 13 last year, for $45,200.

Influenza Deaths Increase in Britain

LONDON (Reuter)—A health ministry official said at the week-end that influenza took a total of at least 273 deaths in Britain during the week ended Jan. 26, compared with 174 the previous week, and that the figure probably would rise during the next two or three weeks.

He added that "although the latest figure represents a steep rise, it need not necessarily be an alarming pointer to a widespread epidemic being an absolute certainty.

"It is to be expected that deaths will rise—possibly fairly steeply—during the next two or three weeks as we now are reaching the crucial juncture of the winter flu season."

The figure covered London and the larger towns, representing a population of about 20,000,000 or roughly half of that of the United Kingdom.

Medals for Airmen

OTTAWA (CP)—Air force headquarters at the week-end announced award of the Distinguished Service Order to Wing Cmdr. R. A. Gordon, D.F.C., of Bobcaygeon, Ont., and the Distinguished Flying Cross to 14 other members of the R.C.A.F., for services overseas.

2 Men of Arctic Expedition Die In Fire At Churchill, Man.

CHURCHILL, Man. (CP) — Only a blackened foundation remained today of an army H-shaped hunt in which two men of Exercise Muskox lost their lives in a sub-Arctic dawn Sunday.

The two were Cpl. Cecil Arthur Ralph, 26, R.C.A.F., whose wife lives at 217 14th Ave. E., Calgary, and Gnr. Frederick A. Morris, 18, whose mother, Mrs. Helen Morris, lives in St. James, Man.

One body was found stretched beside what had been a wall of the building. The other was 15 or 20 feet away. Military officials who opened a court of inquiry said they believed the men had been overcome by smoke or flames before they could reach the door.

Flames believed to have sprung from an oil-burner swept through the 75-foot, one-story building at Exercise Muskox's base camp, 4½ miles from here, with such rapidity the camp's fire fighters were helpless.

Although handicapped by lack of water and by the 25-below-zero weather, officers and men managed to prevent the fire from spreading.

The building, at one time part of a United States air ferry base, contained officers' and sergeants' lounges at opposite ends. An army public relations office linked the two. A bulldozer driven by Norman Whitmell of Dunchurch, Ont., and Winnipeg was used to shear off the walls of the sergeants' lounge and collapse the roof.

It was the demolitioon of that end which helped prevent the flames from leaping the 15 feet to the next building.

Capt. Bob Morton of Port Arthur, an army photographer, one of the first on the scene, broke a window in the men's quarters, but could see no one. Later, two husky dogs were found dead near the door.

How to Help
GET RID OF THAT COLD!
First day, drink a glass of lemon and soda every 2 to 3 hours. Take a hot lemonade when you go to bed to induce perspiration. Continue with lemon and soda 3 to 4 times a day while cold lasts.
AND AVOID ANOTHER COLD!
Lemons are rich in Vitamin C—help combat fatigue and infection. Take juice of 1 lemon, in a glass of water—first thing on arising.
TO MAKE LEMON AND SODA
Pour juice of 1 lemon in a half glass of water. Add—slowly—half teaspoon of baking soda (bicarbonate). Drink as foaming quiets.
WHEN YOU TAKE COLD TAKE LEMONS!

DISPUTES 'OPENLY ARRIVED AT'

POINT ONE OF PRESIDENT WILSON'S famous "Fourteen Points," issued for the consideration of the world on Jan. 8, 1918, read as follows: "Open covenants of peace openly arrived at, after which there shall be no private international understandings of any kind, but diplomacy shall proceed always frankly and in the public view." All peace-loving peoples welcomed this pronouncement. Statesmen of the old school of international dealing could find little in it with which to quarrel. But it remained nothing more than a fine ideal. It is nevertheless worth recalling at this stage of the world's progress because, after a second and much more devastating and costly World War, the statesmen in attendance at the first meeting of the General Assembly of the United Nations are witnessing "open disputes openly arrived at."

As already noted, the chairman of the Soviet Union's delegation, Mr. Vishinsky, has officially and openly charged that the presence of British troops in Greece is inimical to the cause of peace and security. And British Foreign Secretary Bevin, speaking for Great Britain, has implied that the behaviour of Russian troops and political officers in Iran is repugnant to His Majesty's government. The fact that a conflict of ideologies may be at the root of conditions in the former Hellenic kingdom, and the fact that Persian oil is not wholly unconnected with the Iranian dispute, is beside the point. On the other hand, it is important that these disputes are being discussed "frankly and in the public view." The reading public all over the world is able to follow the proceedings while they are proceeding—to paraphrase Mr. Mackenzie King's daily allusions to the progress of last week's Dominion-Provincial deliberations.

Nothing in the open "tiff" between Mr. Vishinsky and Mr. Bevin, however, should occasion gloomy forebodings among the peoples of the United Nations. The chief of the Soviet delegation may have squirmed under the blunt castigation of Russian policy which the British Foreign Secretary embellished in the plainest of language. For Mr. Bevin explained himself by saying that he was "tired" of hearing a variety of charges against his country "in secret." And if the Soviet press, during the week-end, has indulged in an orgy of surmise and innuendo as a prologue to the resumption of the Anglo-Russian discussion this afternoon, such procedure will remind the universal public of the idealism of the late President Wilson.

Regardless of how these charges and counter-charges shall be disposed of, their public airing should impress upon all the peoples of the world the necessity for understanding the purpose of the United Nations' Charter. For unless all present and future governments represented at this initial meeting of the General Assembly shall be made to feel that their respective nationals insist on peace and security as their operative policy, this latest League of Nations may well fail as did its predecessor. As we have observed in these columns many times, it should be the duty of every citizen, no matter of what race or color, to study and understand the provisions of the Charter produced at San Francisco. This is the surest way to convert the Wilsonian ideal into practical achievement.

THE MIGHTY ATOM

IN CONNECTION WITH THE FORTHcoming experiments with the atom bomb which is to be dropped on an area covered by a number of "obsolete" American and former enemy ships roughly composing a navy, the damage resulting will be carefully tabulated and certain deductions made therefrom. But manufacturing a bomb and splitting the atom are two totally different things. The advancement made during the war was in the method of using the split atom for destructive purposes or, in other words, of controlling the energy released by the atom when split.

It is well to recall Professor Conant's evidence before the United States Senate Committee which was inquiring into the possibility of secrecy in connection with the bomb. This was to the effect that if he were given a free hand to manufacture the bomb from scratch with the "know-how" of which he was already possessed as the chemist in charge of the process he had brought to a practical conclusion, it would take him four years to assemble the necessary plant. If he started from scratch in a foreign country, he said it would take him eight years. He mentioned the names of four of the largest manufacturers of various types of machinery in the United States who were engaged in manufacturing "units" of the plant, and added that not one of them had any idea of what the others were doing. They had blueprints of mechanical designs.

So that whatever the deductions as to the destructiveness of the bomb, it is evident that Professor Conant thinks there is plenty of breathing space to concentrate not only on counter measures but on the constructive uses of the release of atomic energy.

THE ATTACK ON V.D.

THROUGHOUT CANADA THIS WEEK public health agencies are concentrating on two major objectives, the control and eventual elimination of venereal disease and the pasteurization of milk. The former draws specific attention in British Columbia with the release of February's Board of Health bulletin recording a 100 per cent increase in primary and secondary syphilis, that is, infectious syphilis, in clinics of the Division of Venereal Disease Control during the first six months of 1945 over the corresponding period in 1944. The condition noted by the provincial authorities is not isolated. To quote their publication:

"Despite all previous efforts at control, the world-wide trend of the attack-rate or venereal disease, whatever its basic cause may be, is steadily upward. This upward increase is reflected in our own national, provincial and local venereal disease statistics."

There can be scant grounds for complacency when such a condition exists. Here is a challenge to the citizens of every community to exert their influence to rid the world of one of the greatest health menaces now in existence. It calls for forthright action and a ready appreciation by the people generally of the need for a frontal attack against an enemy which has defied measures already taken to subdue it. It has been suggested by the Health League of Canada that its work in that field could be materially assisted through compulsory premarital medical examinations, including blood tests, as is the requirement in Alberta and Saskatchewan. That, of course, would fail to reach as broad a field as did the experiment in a southern United States community last year when the population of one entire district submitted to examination.

There is, unfortunately, a sense of foolish shame in some quarters which has so far retarded adequate measures to bring this disease under control. And while there are still people who refuse to co-operate in efforts to curb it, venereal disease will continue to enjoy the protecting cloak of ignorance under which it thrives. It is high time the subject was recognized for what it is—a disease which lends itself to proper skilled treatment, not something to be concealed and allowed to spread to the detriment of humanity in general.

NEW TRENDS

CONGRESS IN THE UNITED STATES is demanding new labor laws. It proposes very much more drastic regulation of relations between the public, management and labor than those suggested by Mr. Truman. The President placed his faith on collective bargaining and a Fact-Finding Board. Congress seems ready now to adopt the Fact-Finding Board, but also to impose penalties on corporation or union funds for breaking agreements. Presumably, also, it would take steps to prevent the public from having to contribute to James Caesar Petrillo's Musicians' Union by paying more for records. It is against certain practices of labor and management which the public complains, and all the good will in the world will not avail very much so long as bad leadership prevails.

There are certain definite principles emerging from the present disputes as is evident from some of the questions asked at forums discussing day-to-day problems. One such question asked at the Town Meeting of the Air in New York was: "Would full employment be maintained if our main objective was to raise the standard of living of less developed countries." The answer was "Yes, in so far as full employment can be defined as full production." That question won the $25 prize for the best question of the evening. It indicates the trend in public opinion toward "production" rather than "distribution"—and the same trend is activating Congress in its attitude toward regulative legislation.

EUPHONY AND IDENTITY

IN ANOTHER COLUMN ON THIS PAGE the other day space was devoted to place names and derivatives designating people from various towns and cities. The case of "Sooites," citizens of Sault Ste. Marie, was specifically mentioned by a writer who took exception to the lack of euphony in the word. In this district we are natural heirs to the adjectival noun "Victorian," which is quite satisfactory, though it might suggest more retrospect than progress. But what are the residents of Esquimalt, Oak Bay, and Saanich? The last mentioned might be Saanichites and the same syllable might be added to other municipal names. The addition, however, carries an alien sound. The simpler expedient would be to insist on Greater Victorians. And there might be a positive psychological value there, too.

EATING WITHOUT LOOKING

MR. ERNEST J. WETLI, CATERING supervisor of the Canadian Pacific Railway's hotel chain, has raised a neat point in his criticism of Canadian eating habits. Said Mr. Wetli:

"The tourist knows how to appreciate good food, but the Canadian public eats because it is 12 noon or 6 o'clock; people read newspapers and magazines while they are eating and consequently don't know what they are eating."

This authority on cuisine offers the opinion of a connoisseur. He is shocked, it appears, by a national inclination to ignore the full delights of epicurianism. But Mr. Wetli, who is here recruiting apprentice cooks, ignores an important point. The very fact that he is enlisting young men for courses in cooking indicates a scarcity of good chefs. Before he suggests a Canadian lack of appreciation for ambrosia, he should be certain it is ambrosia the Canadians fail to appreciate.

Walter Lippmann

HARRY HOPKINS

NOW THAT Harry Hopkins is dead, his reputation may come to bear some recognizable relation to his work. While he was alive, it did not. If in one room some one had assembled say the 20 men, chiefs of state foreign ministers, and high commanders, and in another room an equal number of private citizens—if each group had then been asked to describe Harry Hopkins, an inquiring observer would not have believed they were talking about the same man.

There is a reason for this. The career of Harry Hopkins was divided into two chapters, one before May, 1940, when Hitler broke into Western Europe and reached the shores of the Atlantic, and one after. In the first chapter, that of the domestic New Deal, Harry Hopkins was on public view and his public reputation became fixed.

IN THE SECOND chapter, that of the war, he disappeared entirely from the public view, and in this vacuum of information his former reputation clung to him like a tin can to a dog's tail. Except among the relatively few who were planning and directing the war Harry Hopkins was judged as a New Dealer. He was liked or disliked, suspected or trusted, not for what he was actually doing but for what he had done in the years before May, 1940.

His great work, upon which his lasting fame will rest, was done as the principal adviser and agent of President Roosevelt in the formation of the Allied coalition. Through him, more than any other American, the negotiations were conducted which produced the common strategical plan and the combined operations. That was his mission, whether he was administering lend-lease, or traveling back and forth among the capitals, or attending the councils of war in Washington, Casablanca, Cairo, Tehran, Quebec, Yalta, or working for the President with the combined and the joint chiefs of staff, or with the shipping, production, and resources boards.

NO ONE WOULD say that he was the inventor of the conception of a unified effort under a common strategical plan. But his contribution in making the conception workable was very great indeed. That is why his private reputation rose so high among those who knew most intimately what was going on, how great were the difficulties of collaboration, in the inner councils of the war. Even the outside observer, if he watched closely and was reasonably well informed, could detect an objective measure of his influence. There were alternating periods of decision and co-operation on the one hand, of hesitation and conflict on the other. These periods coincided remarkably, one began to see, with the periods when Harry Hopkins was active and in good health and with the periods when he was away from Washington or was ill.

Coalition warfare is notoriously difficult, and the coalition which won the second World War was the most complex, and also the most brilliantly successful, which statesmen and soldiers have ever organized. The coalition of the First World War was simple in comparison: moreover, it fell apart, as this one never did, before the war ended.

WE ARE TOO CLOSE to our own times to appreciate now the greatness of the achievement in uniting so many diverse nations in such gigantic campaigns all interlocked one with the other in every continent and on all the oceans. But the historians who write for our descendants will appreciate it, and the men who played a leading part in it, not least among them Harry Hopkins, will have a fame that is secure.

Of the personal qualities which enabled him to play his part, I would single out his lucidity and his fearlessness. They were, I think, two aspects of the same thing. He had what old Holmes, the justice, liked to call an instinct for the jugular, the gift of penetration, the knack of cutting aside the details and coming to the crux of the matter, of finding swiftly the real issue which had to be decided, the sticking point at which pride, vested interest, timidity, confusion, were causing trouble.

HE WOULD bring it nakedly into the open, ruthlessly, almost cynically, with no palaver, often with deliberate tactlessness meant to shock men into seeing the reality. These are not the qualities which make a conventionally successful politician. But in the grim business of war, among men who carry the tremendous burdens of decision, they were just the qualities which the times called for.

So fearless a mind does not exist except where there is also a fearless heart. After May, 1940, certainly, Harry Hopkins had come beyond all fear. He knew what the war meant, that unless it was won, life would not be worth living. He knew, too, I have no doubt, that he had not long to live. Yet by a chance, which always seemed to him curious, he found himself in one of the high places of the world at the most critical moment of its history.

THOUGH HE WAS not given to being grandiose about it, he did in fact then spend himself utterly, and he was indeed a dedicated man. Fearing nothing, he was uninhibited and could be perfectly lucid at least with himself, and as direct and penetrating in his advice and in negotiation as the traffic would bear.

Would there had been more like him. For his work was confined to the highest and most central issue of the war: the secondary and peripheral issues, which now rise to plague us, and the preparation of what was to be done with victory, he had little part in. For the President's health and his own had failed before they could take them in hand

DE GAULLE MAY SEEK PRESIDENCY AGAIN

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press World Traveler

PARIS (AP)—Gen. de Gaulle's resignation as President of France and his "retirement" present an intensely interesting political situation, for there is widespread belief among observers that the general merely intends to lie quiet until the new constitution is adopted next June and then come out again for leadership of the republic.

The general appears to be in process of trying to execute a grand coup of which his "retirement" is the strategic keystone. If this assumption is correct, then the reasons for it follow along naturally enough. The situation is this:

France's economic position is a matter of grave concern, for she has just about hit bottom. Her recovery calls for strong governmental action involving long-term policies. But these strong, long-term policies are denied to the present government by the fact that its life can run only to June, when a new constitution will be adopted and another government will come into power.

The corollary to this is that the present government has small chance of achieving the sweeping economic betterment for which the heart of every Frenchman is crying. This being so, the leader of the government may arrive at election time with a heavy black mark against his name in the public mind.

The man in the street will be inclined to overlook the handicaps, and will see only the fact that life for him and his family is the same grim struggle it was when the government assumed control. So he will look for new leadership.

While there is hot competition for power among the three major parties—the Communists, the Socialists and the Movement Republician Populair—none seems particularly anxious to shoulder sole responsibility for the next few months before the new election. Thus a great fight for leadership is brewing.

The general belief among observers is that Gen. de Gaulle then will emerge from "retirement" and, with a party of his own or perhaps a modarately conservative coalition, make his bid for a return to the presidency. Whoever comes to power then will have a far better chance to achieve great things.

When Transit Vehicles More Modern Than the Present Motor Buses Are Manufactured, Blue Line Will Operate Them

Other cities have faced the same transportation problems as Greater Victoria. How did they meet it?

The following Canadian cities have adopted motor buses exclusively:

London, Brantford, Kitchener, Peterborough, Oshawa, Woodstock, Welland, Saint John, Port Colborne, Sudbury, Sault Ste. Marie, Kingston, Guelph, Moose Jaw, Lethbridge, Windsor, New Westminster, Nanaimo, Kamloops.

In the ten largest cities in Canada there are now 1,200 motor buses and 65 trolley coaches. There must be a reason.

There are 65 trolley coaches and 2,985 motor buses in all of Canada. There must be a reason.

There are only seven trolley coaches in Canada east of Winnipeg, and none in Ontario, home of the great hydro electric commission. There must be a reason.

In United States cities of 50,000 to 250,000 population there are 1,062 trolley coaches and 15,250 motor buses. There must be a reason.

New York is taking every electrical vehicle off its streets. There must be a reason.

More than 20 motor buses are being delivered to municipal transportation systems for every trolley coach. There must be a reason.

More Car Accidents In 1945, But Deaths Show Decrease of 14

Despite an increase in the number of accidents, the death toll of traffic on British Columbia's highways totaled only 120 in 1945, compared with 134 in 1944.

February bulletin of the provincial board of health showed 13 persons were killed in motor vehicle accidents in December, against 11 in December, 1944. At the same time the bulletin's statistics noted a decrease of one to 15 in the number of persons killed in streetcar and other road transport accidents in 1945.

Water transport accidents during 1945 increased by almost 50 per cent from 24 in 1944 to 33, while air transport accidents killed 48 persons last year, against 46 during the previous year. Accidents resulting in fatal injuries in mines and quarries took 13 lives last year, against eight in 1944. Agricultural and forestry accidents resulted in 63 deaths last year, and increase of 11 from 1944.

Fire continued to cause more deaths during 1945, the increase being blamed by fire chiefs to overcrowding in homes. Deaths described by the provincial board of health as caused by conflagration numbered 27 last year, against 16 during the previous year, while accidental burns (conflagration excepted) took 33 lives, increase of 200 per cent from 1944.

Deaths taken by drowning decreased from 71 in 1944 to 67 in 1945, but deaths from accidental injury by firearms increased to 12 from nine.

Cancer took more lives than any other notifiable disease, the toll in 1945 being 1,380, an increase of 57 from 1944. Next in the list of deaths caused by notifiable diseases was tuberculosis, which claimed 356 lives last year, against 362 in 1944. Bronchial pneumonia took 149 lives and lobar pneumonia took 106 lives. Corresponding statistics for 1944 were 196 and 124 respectively.

Deaths caused by syphilis numbered 76 last year, compared with 69 in 1944.

In "deaths from other specified diseases," diseases of the heart claimed 2,998 lives in 1945, compared with 2,926 in 1944. Other diseases of the arteries were listed as causing 157 deaths, a decrease of 25 from 1944.

College Mixer Held

The students of Victoria College held a dance last week after which they called a "mixer." New students were introduced to their classmates through the medium of medleys and other mixer dances. Refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

The Women's Undergraduate Society heard Miss L. Harwood speak on "Openings for Young Women in Church Work," at their last meeting.

Canon Michael Coleman was introduced as speaker at the Students' Christian Movement Society. Michael Creal, the president, was in the chair. Open discussion followed the address.

Seek Canadian Song

The financial prize offered recently by Hon. Russel T. Kelley, above, Ontario's new minister of health, for a new all-Canadian song, has been "upped" by an extra $100 by Graham Bertram of Dundas, Ont. "The prize is now $600, and it may go higher," said Mr. Kelley. He sat at the grand piano in his home in Hamilton, Ont., and played several of the songs of Canada which have been sent in. In his search for the song of Canada, Mr. Kelley asks those who submit entries to include the words "Canada" and "God." These are musts, and no score will be considered unless these conditions are complied with. The contest will close March 31. Preferred will be those songs which leave out any mention of war.

Suicide Increases In Province in 1945

Although 1945 was generally a year of thankfulness and rejoicing since it marked the end of the greatest war of all time, more British Columbians during the year took their own lives than in 1944.

Report of the provincial board of health showed today that 116 persons committed suicide last year, an increase of 21.4 per cent from 1944 when 91 persons took their own lives.

Fewer persons were murdered during the year, the board noting a decrease of three from 18 in 1944.

Sooke Fire Hall

A new fire hall, constructed entirely by the voluntary labor of men of the district, has been opened at Sooke.

Solidly built, the fire hall has a full cement foundation and cement floor and houses a hose wagon, hose reel, two trailer pumps and miscellaneous equipment. Necessary gear for the 14-man volunteer crew is provided.

The hall was constructed at a cost of $550, the money being donated jointly by the provincial committee of the Civil Defence and E. Todd, according to announcement of A. F. Brownsey, who acted as treasurer for the project.

The Victoria Puble Library is asking for the co-operation of various local organizations in keeping the societies file at the library up-to-date. All organized groups are asked to notify the reference department of any recent changes in the election of officers. A card form to be filled in may be secured from the library upon request. It would be appreciated if the organizations would undertake the responsibility of notifying the library each time there is an election of officers.

Chinese Indignant On Selling Charge

The aged Chinese proprietor of a grocery store was most indignant over being brought before Magistrate Henry C. Hall in city police court Saturday on a charge of selling two cans of soup after closing hours.

He was under the impression he was not breaking the law by doing so. "Little store he can do. Big store he no can do," he said he had seen the ruling in the newspapers.

Despite his indignation and excuse, he was fined $20 and $2.50 costs or in default five days in jail.

"I no money," he jabbered in broken English, "I go to jail."

So he went to jail, and his claim of having no money apparently was correct as the routine search of prisoners prior to their being admitted to the cells, revealed that he had 50 cents in his pocket, made up from a quarter, three nickels and 10 coppers.

Scouts, Guides to Line Steps As House Opens

Work of the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides during the war will be recognized here Feb. 21 at the opening of the 21st B.C. Legislature when guides and scouts will occupy the board steps of the Parliament Buildings.

On his way to open the Legislature, Lieutenant-Governor W. C. Woodward will pass between lines of 24 guides and scouts spaced alternately in double ranks.

The governor will wear the Canadian army colonel's uniform.

While details have not yet been settled, there will probably be a naval and military guard of honor.

Dog Brings Help

GISCOME, B.C. (CP)—Oscar Anderson's dog padded its way alone through heavy snow from the trapline north of the Fraser River and guided two men back to the cabin where Anderson lay critically ill. Anderson is recovering.

Hospitality Group Asks Registrations

Citizens' War Service hospitality committee will continue to arrange home hospitality for men of the services, Mrs. Walter Laing, chairman, said today.

Naval authorities, she said had requested that the committee's work be continued for the permanent Canadian navy. She asked for a futher list of hostesses so that invitations could be given to trainees on their first leave in Victoria.

Mrs. Laing pointed out that 5,000 navy men were expected at Esquimalt, 3,000 afloat and 2,000 in training at Naden. Many, she said, would be youths away from home for the first time. With many of the special canteens for servicemen closing it would be necessary for the committee to find other diversions for their leisure time.

She asked that hostesses wishing to register with the hospitality committee, call her at E 7209. Also taking registrations will be Mrs. E. N. Vessey, E 8108 and Mrs. D. W. Morry, E 4750.

The city council has been asked to share $1,200 costs to move a building at Foul Bay Road and Oak Bay Avenue, to remove danger to motorists caused by a blind corner. Engineers of Oak Bay and the city have both recommended the project.

Y.W.C.A. Scene Of Pretty Wedding

A gown of ivory satin featuring a cowl neckline, long, tight-fitting sleeves, and a full skirt sweeping into a long train, was chosen by Elsie Mary, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Friend, 1040 Pendergast Street, for her marriage Saturday evening at the Y.W.C.A., to Wallace Wetman, only son of Mrs. V. Anderson, 2623 Cookman Street, and the late J. Anderson, Medicine Hat.

The bride's full-length embroidered veil was held to her head with orange blossoms and she carried her mother's white prayer book topped with red roses and forget-me-nots.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Amy Smith, wearing a gown of pale blue crepe with matching hat, and little June Smith, in a full-length white organdy frock over pink taffeta. Both carried spring flowers in colonial arrangements. H. W. Smith was groomsman and Misses Lily and Ione Jacklin ushered.

Rev. Thos Menzies was the officiating minister and Miss Katherine Browne played the wedding music. During the signing of the register, Miss Browne sang "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Miss Marylia Carr.

Mothers of the bridal couple assisted in welcoming the guests to the reception and Archibald Smith proposed the toast.

The couple will reside at 140 Moss Street.

Weds Navy Man At Christ Church

Canon H. H. Creal of Sidney officiated at the marriage on the afternoon of Jan. 28 in Christ Church Cathedral, of Joy Tatiana, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Podgorenco, 228 Michigan Street, and Alfred Thomas Burton, R.C.N., H.M.C.S. Uganda, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Songhurst, Cobourg, Ont.

The bride was given away by her father and wore a full-length gown of white satin in period style with long sleeves and full skirt. An heirloom veil was caught to a Mary Stuart headdress and she carried an arm bouquet of calla lilies.

Miss Marie Gillis was the bride's only attendant wearing a gown of green sheer over satin with white gardenias in her hair and a shoulder-length veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of carnations, rosebuds and tulips. C. Moenck supported the groom.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Later, the young couple left for a short honeymoon, for which the bride wore a satin dress with black accessories. They will reside at 228 Michigan Street.

Divorces Increase By 358 in 1945

Total divorces granted by courts in British Columbia during 1945 were 1,366, an increase of 358 over the 1944 total. This is an all-time record.

The statistics were given today in the monthly bulletin of the provincial board of health.

Births were down from 17,983 in 1944 to 17,906. Deaths increased by three to 9,242, while marriages increased to 9,103 in 1945 from 8,269 in 1944.

Saanich School Notes

Philip Lambrick of Gordon Head School, has been awarded first prize of $30 for a placemat judged to be the best in British Columbia. The placemat contest was sponsored by the Nutritional Division of the Department of National Health and Welfare at Ottawa. The mats were designed for use by pupils during the supervised lunch period. Ottawa intends to issue a placemat to all schools.

Philip's placemat also took first prize in the contest sponsored last November by the Saanich School Board.

Joyce and Verna Hicks of Prospect Lake School received $5 each in prizes in the B.C. contest. Miss H. Stewart and Malcolm Dunnett are the teachers at Gordon Head and Prospect Lake, respectively.

Frank Snowsell, B.A., has been appointed to the staff of Mt. Douglas High School for the balance of the present term to teach social studies and English. He has just returned from service with the air force in Germany. Prior to enlisting four years ago, he taught in the interior of B.C.

The Strathcona Trust has forwarded $5 prizes to Saanichton, Strawberry Vale and Tillicum Schools for proficiency in physical education for the 1944-45 school year. These schools were judged to be the best for their respective size throughout Saanich.

A $5 prize is being sent to Mt. Douglas and Mt. View High Schools for air cadet work during last year.

Brig. J. C. Stewart, C.B.E., D.S.O., District Commanding Officer, M.D. No. 6, talking with Pipe-Maj. Lillian Grant, prior to his inspection of the band when they landed at Halifax. Looking on is Maj. M. Barker, District C.W.A.C. Staff Officer.

They Make Toymaking Pay

Mrs. Mary Fairbairn with a few of the novel toys made by herself and her sister, Mrs. Vicki Currie.

To many toymaking is just an art, but to Mrs. Mary Fairbairn and Mrs. Vicki Currie, who take their work quite seriously, it is more than just that. Not only is it a pastime, but pin-money as well.

The two sisters and their mother, Mrs. May Harris, who reside on 56 South Turner Street, took up toymaking about two years ago, during the toy scarcity period, and since then have turned out dozens of "Pluto's," "Bambi's" and "Lambsie's," which they sell to their friends and staffs of various business houses.

It was more or less a necessity in the beginning with the three servicemen's wives. Now it has become a habit, and they learned to love their work.

With children so young it was impossible for them to leave the house, so with the aid of a sewing machine and clever fingers they created a job right at home to help fill out their long evenings while waiting for their husbands to come home from the services.

These toy experts have their own departments. One does the creating and designing, another the sewing and the third member works in the stuffing department.

"Pluto" leads the parade as best seller by quite a stride, although "Bambi" manages to give him a good leap for his money. The youngest children love the baby lamb, so "Lambsie" ticks with the cradle-song age to a tee.

Getting materials for toys was no laughing mater and proved quite a task for the ambitious three. On many occasions they would spend a full afternoon in search for their needs. Among the most difficult materials to buy, black cotton was on the top of the list, and as far as felt was concerned, there wasn't a glimmer of hope in obtaining any, so down came the hat box and what have you, and soon buttons, ears and eyes were made to look almost real.

Stuffed firmly these toys are made of durable materials and best seen in a long while. Mrs. Fairbairn who was the original organizer of this particular sewing bee, claims that though the work may seem tedious, it is far from boring and has since become fascinating to all three of them, and they wish to continue with the venture.

Dorothy Dix

DANGEROUS AGE

Dear Miss Dix—What is the fool age with most people? Some say it is forty for women and fifty for men. What do you think about it?

RALPH H.

Answer—Depends upon the individual. With many men and women it lasts from the cradle to the grave, but, generally speaking, the age of indiscretion for both men and women seems to be around middle age.

Why this should be so, no one can really explain, but certainly it is a common thing to see women around 40 and men around 50 who, up to that time, have been models of discretion and lived practical, wise, common sense lives, suddenly go haywire and commit all sorts of follies.

COMPLETE CHANGE ABOUT

I have known women with grown children who had been devoted wives and mothers, who had dressed conservatively, and whose wildest diversion had been running church affairs, all at once blossom out in gay, girlish clothes and the latest hair-do's and who took to night clubs and making eyes at boys young enough to be their sons.

And it is true that it is the men about 50 who oftenest swap their old wives for new, or lead the double life and are the easy prey for gold-diggers.

Why? Probably because both men and women suddenly realize that they are growing old and it is their last chance at a bit of romance. But certainly men and women at middle age do fool things that they spend the balance of their lives repenting.

Dear Miss Dix: I have just been discharged from the service and would like to marry the girl with whom I have been in love for years, but marraige does not appeal to her. While I was overseas she trained for a teacher and she appears to feel that she would rather have a career than a husband. What should I do?

WONDERING.

Answer: When a girl has the career germ in her system, the only sane thing for a man to do is to let her work it out. Let her find out that a career is not something handed to her on a silver salver, but that it is something that a woman buys with her heart's blood, with work and worry and anxiety and loneliness, and that it is rarely worth the price she paid for it.

A great many men persuade girls to give up their careers to marry them. This is always a mistake because no matter how good and kind the husband is, or how much money he gives his wife, she goes through life feeling that she has made a terrible mistake and sacrifice.

So let your girl have a go at her career. If she is really a genius, and prefers the glad hand of the public to baby hands on her breast, you are lucky not to get her, for careering wives and matrimony don't mix.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am terribly in love with a boy of 23. He drinks, gambles and is inclined to be lazy, but he says he will change his ways if I will marry him. Do you think he will really reform if I marry him?

ANN H.

Answer: Any girl who thinks she can reform a drunken, good-for-nothing boy by marrying him has simply taken leave of all of her good, common sense. Don't delude yourself into thinking that you can make a man of him. No woman is a miracle-worker, and you cannot put back-bone in a weakling, nor cure a drunkard's thirst, nor exercise the fatal fascination that the gambling table has for the gambler.

So if you have any intelligence whatever, or any regard for your happiness, I urge you not to marry this boy. You may pine for him, but you won't regret missing him as you will regret it if you marry him.

Dear Miss Dix — My husband and I have just been married a few months and I am trying so hard to please him. I cook everything he would like and he won't eat any of it. He just wants his rolls and milk.

Please give me some suggestion as to what I should do.

NEWLYWED.

Answer—Did you snatch your husband out of the cradle before he cut his teeth that he still sticks to his baby food. The best way to cure him of it and get him on a proper diet is to cook good, savory meals and invite company to help you eat them. They will laugh at your husband and make so much fun of him he will be ashamed to have such a nursery habit.

But, my, what a cinch for a bride to have a husband who can be fed on bread and milk.

Welfare Committee Estimates $93,029

The welfare committee Saturday approved estimates of expenditure of $93,029 for 1946 were presented to today's city council meeting, Ald. Margaret D. Christie, committee chairman, said following the meeting. This compares with $78,000 spent by the department last year.

Charities obtaining grants from the welfare department under the 1946 estimates include the convalescent homes, the home for aged and infirm women, the Children's Aid Society, the Y.W.C.A. Travelers' Aid, the Refugee Home and T.B. cases, Ald. Christie said.

It will be recommended that James Stothard, manager of the Aged Men's Home be placed on the permanent staff, and that Mrs. Florence Mutrie be sent to Vancouver to attend the annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society next week.

The committee does not propose sending a delegate to the Biennial Canadian Conference of Social Workers in Halifax this June, Ald. Christie said.

The truck now being used by the welfare department will be turned back to the public works department, she said, because there is no great need for it.

Mayor Percy George will recommend the appointment of Ald. B. J. Gadsden to the case committee of the board of directors of the Family Welfare Association as the city representative, he announced today. Ald. Gadsden will succeed ex-Ald. W. H. Davies on the committee.

Answer to Municipal Problems Found In Amalgamation

The answer to the pressing problems which face the city and other municipalities in providing adequte police, fire and other civic services from overcrowded and outdated premises lies in amalgamation, in the opinion of Ald. B. J. Gadsden, chairman of the business, trade, re-establishment and intermunicipal committee.

After viewing the police station Wednesday and the market building Saturday, to see how more space could be found for the police department, Ald. Gadsden said that he felt it was a waste of public funds to try and patch up the present buildings and set-up. He advocated that all efforts be put to getting the four municipalities amalgamated and then have adequate facilities for the Greater Victoria departments installed.

"Everything has grown old, and there has been no work on public buildings for years," he commented.

H. Carl Goldenberg, municipal authority who has been advocated as the commissioner to investigate amalgamation, will be in the city this month, and Ald. Gadsden said that he was arranging to have a meeting with him as soon as it could be arranged. Representatives of the four municipalities as well as representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and organized labor will be invited to attend the meeting to discuss the whole amalgamation question.

High School Notes

Miss Dorothy Tait, director of Public Health Nursing, spoke at the monthly Inter-High Junior Red Cross Council meeting held last week at Victoria High School on "How the Junior Red Cross Can Assist in the Public Health Plan." She suggested students back up immunization programs, inform people of service offered by the board of health, and keep students informed on new preventions and cures of diseases.

Miss Tait thanked the students for the money the Junior Red Cross sends to public health.

May Smith, president of Inter-Council, was in the chair, and Irene Wilson, president at Victoria High Red Cross, presided at the urns. Miss I. Thomas, sponsor, welcomed the guests.

Senior girls at Victoria High heard Mrs. Alfred Carmichael speak on "Inflation and Price Control," last week. In explaining the function of the Wartime Prces and Trade Board, Mrs. Carmichael told of how the young people could help fight inflation and respect the continuance of rationing.

H. Dee of the staff, announced the annual Junior Red Cross Indoor Circus would be held March 1 and 2. Lists have been circulated throughout the school for ideas and articles that students can bring to sell. The students raised over $2,600 last year and hope to exceed that this year.

An auditorium noon-hour feature last week consisted of a concert given by Bernie Porter and his orchestra. Proceeds went to the Students Council.

Graduating students are having their pictures taken for the school annual this week. The Camosun staff consists of Joan Gonnason, editor-in-chief; Shirley Fennell, Dorothy Wills, Vera Pearson, Dick Chester, editors; Martin Shepherd, business manager; Daisy Chung, advertising, and Dale Howell, art.

Fire Chief Joseph Raymond has recommended to the city council that Marine Service and Sales Ltd. be given permission to install a 1,000-gallon gasoline tank at 1210 Wharf Street.

Dockyard Will Know Manpower Need Soon

Indication of the number of civilian personnel who will be retained at H.M.C. Dockyard here will probably be available shortly, K. G. Slade, personnel officer, said today.

"I don't know what the program will be," he said. "It all depends on what work will be scheduled."

Forty men were laid off from the electrical shop and boiler room last week.

Topic of a petition signed by 200 employees including war veterans who had been taken on since the end of the war, the layoff, Mr. Slade said, had been effected only after the merits of each man had been studied carefully.

Mr. Slade said he had not seen the petition which was presented to Capt. T. H. Evans, engineer superintendent of the dockyard, but he said the employee's service at the dockyard, his service in the armed forces, including possible overseas service, his ability in his present job and his marital status, including the number of dependents he was supporting, were all considered carefully before the employee was given his notice.

Referring to possible future layoffs, Mr. Slade said: "If he's a good man on his job he doesn't need to worry."

Expected Home Shortly

Staff Sergt. Charles Campion, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Campion, 2691 Donald Street, is expected home shortly after serving for three and a half years overseas. He has been spending part of his leave in Toronto.

He joined the R.C.E.M.E. in Toronto five years ago, later transferred to the R.C.O.C. and served in England, Holland and France.

New Gasoline For B.C. Motorists

Richfield a name known to many residents of British Columbia through the Richfield Reporter is now supplying gasoline to B.C. motorists. Independent dealers on Vancouver Island, Vancouver, and the lower mainland are now inviting the driver to "fill her up" with Richfield. United Oil Limited, a 100 per cent B.C. marketing organization are distributors for Richfield products and they supply only through independently owned and operated dealers. In the short period of only five months many dealers have turned to Richfield which indicates their desire to do business with a local company and also proves the merits of this product.

New Recipe for All-Bran Muffins

Easy and better than ever!

MOLASSES ALL-BRAN MUFFINS

2 cups Kellogg's All-Bran
1 egg
1 cup sifted flour
½ cup light molasses
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cups milk
1 teaspoon soda

Add All-Bran to molasses and milk; let soak for 15 minutes. Beat egg; add to first mixture. Sift flour, salt and soda together; combine with All-Bran mixture. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake in moderately hot oven (400° F.) about 20 minutes.

What a rich, satisfying flavour you get when golden molasses and toasty All-Bran get together in a tender hot muffin! And what a deliciously mouth-melting texture! That's because All-Bran is milled to make the delicate shreds soft and tender. Enjoy these grand muffins with a glass of milk for a bed-time snack...or spread them with jam for the youngsters when they come home from school. Get Kellogg's All-Bran today. 2 convenient sizes at grocers. Made by Kellogg, London, Canada. Helps keep you regular—naturally!

The DOCTOR Says:

BED BEST PLACE FOR COLD SUFFERER

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

The possibility of infection with other nose and throat germs is decreased and the attack shortened if the congestion, swelling and watery dicharge of the nose in the common cold is relieved, according to H. S. Diehl, M.D., and associates, University of Minnesota.

Go to bed when you have a cold and stay there until you are well is good advice, as you protect others from exposure and shorten your own illness.

Any measure which increases the blood flow to the skin has a tendency to dry up the nose. A hot bath is a good early treatment for a cold, and if it is followed by rest in bed with sufficient coverings to prevent cooling, the effect is prolonged and temporary to permanent benefit is obtained. Body massage also brings the blood to the surface and has an effect similar to a hot bath.

EXERCISE MAY HELP

Favorite prescription of many people is to go to bed with a box of disposable tissue nearby and to drink lots of fluids—water, lemonade, orange juice and others. The theory back of this practice is that the water eliminates waste products and toxins from the body. There is no basis for this assumption. Extra water is indicated if there is excessive fluid loss from sweating or fever, but not for any other reason.

A few years ago, the health service of the University of Minnesota conducted an experimental study in the treatment of the common cold. When the diagnosis was made, the attending physician wrote a prescription for cold medication which was filled by the pharmacist with one of the cold remedies under investigation. After 48 hours of treatment, the patient reported the result on a card he carried for this purpose.

REMEDY PROVES BENEFICIAL

Control medicine was milk sugar which was given to find out how many students recovered from a cold spontaneousy. It was learned that 35 per cent of the students who received sugar tablets without their knowledge reported improvement of their colds within 48 hours.

Aspirin, soda or quinine gave but little better result (37 to 50 per cent), while most of the advertised cold remedies were in the class with the sugar tablets.

Result was that a remedy containing codeine and papavrine was found to be of greatest benefit. Of the 1,500 students who were given this preparation, 72 per cent reported definite improvement or complete relief within 24 to 48 hours.

WIDOW'S REQUEST SHOCK

The Edmonton Re-establishment Credit office was glad to receive a complimentary letter from a war widow thanking the office for the speed with which cheques for her late husband's gratuity had been issued to her. But part two of the same letter came as a slight shock. In it, the widow asked about making application for her late husband's re-establishment credit so that she could help set up her second husband in business.

MORE FOR EDUCATION

Legislation liberalizing loan education provisions of the G.I. Bill of Rights in United States has been signed by President Truman. The new law increases living allowances for veterans returning to school by $15 a month. In loan provisions, the word "normal" has been deleted from the requirement that property on which a loan is made is to be of "reasonable normal value."

175 IN ONE BUSINESS

A recent survey by the advisory committee to the re-establishment credit division of the Veterans' Department in Vancouver showed 175 veterans had bought electrical and radio businesses. The committee issued a warning to Vancouver veterans of supply and maintenance problems in the overcrowded field.

VETERANS PAY TOO MUCH

An investigation by the Edmonton Citizens' Rehabilitation of prices being paid in desperation by veterans seeking homes revealed that one veteran had paid $2,900 for a house and lot valued by the City of Edmonton at $1,046, and another paid $960 for a shack valued at $296.

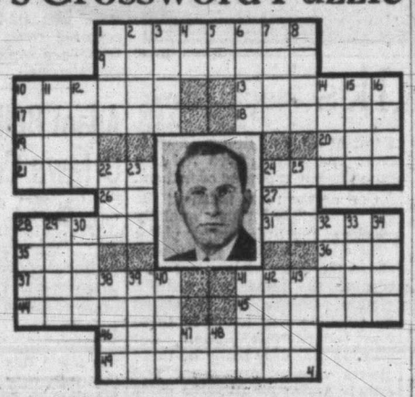

LOSES DEPOSIT

A house-hunting airman in Vancouver recently lost $5 to a "landlord" who claimed he had a house to rent but required a deposit until the end of the month, when tenants would be leaving. The airman would have made a bigger deposit than $5 but was suspicious. He went to the address given him by the "landlord" and confirmed his doubts—there was no such number.

A complaint has been received by Mayor Percy George from an elderly lady that she was refused a bicycle license because she was unable to take her bicycle to the police station to be stamped with a registration number. She said she could not ride the bicycle downtown in heavy traffic and could not afford to have it sent down, which denied her the right to ride her bicycle on quiet residential streets.

CPO. J. J. Clarke, 1515 Haultain Street, was presented with the British Empire Medal at the investiture at Government House Thursday. His address appeared in the preliminary list of those to be honored as 1515 Hamilton Road.

GIBBONS HAVE 'REACH' OF REMARKABLE KIND

There is an easy way for a man to tell how tall he is, without measuring his height. This can be done by going to a wall and stretching the arms out as far as possible. The point reached by the tips of the index fingers should be marked, and the distance between those points should be measured.

The number of feet and inches between those points should be the same as your height. The rule works for almost everyone — for boys and girls as well as adults. If you wonder about this statement, I suggest that you test it out on your friends and on yourself.

If you have a little gibbon in your home, however, the rule will fail. A gibbon is a long-armed ape, and what arms he has! When he drops his arms alongside his body, they just about reach the ground!

One gibbon, three feet tall, was tested for his "reach." The distance between the fingertips of his outspread arms was five feet and six inches! In other words, he had a reach almost equal to that of a man six feet in height.

Reach of a gibbon compared to that of a man.

Another queer fact about a gibbon is this: his hands are longer than his feet. In the case of a man, the hands have only about two-thirds the length of the feet.

Gibbons can walk on two feet better than apes of any other kind. They hold up their long arms and use them to keep in balance while walking in an erect manner. Because of this habit, they have been compared to tightrope walkers who (in some cases) balance themselves with the help of poles.

Gibbons can run on two feet, as well as walk. Those which I have watched in zoos have done more running than walking.

Like the orang-utan and several other apes, the gibbon is classed as "anthropoid," or "manlike." Except for the extremely long arms, and the fur-covered body, this animal looks very much like a small edition of a man. The longest section of a gibbon's arm is between the elbow and the wrist.

Monarch Life Assets At $24,000,000

E. J. Tarr, K.C., president of the Monarch Life stated today at the annual meeting of the company held at its head office, Winnipeg, that total assets of the company were now over $24,000,000, an increase of over $3,000,000 for the year. The amount invested in mortgages, real estate, policy loans and common stocks was, in each case, less than at the end of 1944. Investments in bonds and preferred stocks were substantially greater, and as was to be expected, the outstanding increase was in Victory Bonds, which now amount to 41% of total assets.

The average rate of interest was 5.08% for the year, but Mr. Tarr stated that it was not anticipated that this rate would be maintained in the future. Net recoveries and profits on the disposition of securities amounted to $773,000.

G. C. Cumming, general manager, in reporting on the underwriting activities of the company, stated that new business amounted to $13,763,783, an increase of 17.1% over 1944. Business in force gained $9,515,000 to $96,844,518, a gain of 10.9%. 1945 saw a betterment in mortality due to the termination of the war. Death claims incurred by the Monarch Life for the period 1940-45 inclusive amounted to $2,187,987, of which $422,744 was paid on claims arising out of the war.

The company's Vancouver Island branch is managed by G. D. Tyson, who reports sound business progress in 1945.

Ernest A. Bray of 965 Caledonia Avenue has written Mayor Percy George soliciting his aid in finding a home. He says he has been 28 years in Victoria, and spent six years in the armed forces, and has a wife and two children. His wife has been sick, he told the mayor, and has spent the past several months in Alberta for her health, but is now returning to Victoria.

What is LANTIGEN?
Lantigen is a specially prepared dissolved vaccine and has been used successfully in the treatment of various diseases. Lantigen is not a patent medicine. Lantigen is a bacterial vaccine in a dissolved state, is devoid of drugs and safe to take. Lantigen is a natural aid. It is produced from the bacteria which are peculiar to the particular disease requiring treatment. In the preparation of Lantigen the organisms are destroyed by a process of dissolution thus releasing the active principles from the bacterial bodies. Being in a completely dissolved state the vaccine is operative locally by absorption into the tissues of the tongue, tonsils, throat, and the intestinal tract and is further operative by means of its distribution throughout the system. More than 150,000 people in Australia have enjoyed relief from the distressing effect of catarrh and allied conditions.

Clinical response has been quite definitely marked." This important statement, however, heralds the dawn of a great release for Catarrhal sufferers.

Anti-Vivisection Society to Observe 25th Anniversary

H. Hollins presided at the annual meeting of the Canadian Anti-Vivisection at the Y.W.C.A. Saturday.

The society will celebrate its 25th birthday March 23 with a tea and sale at the Y.W.C.A. Throughout the war, Miss Dora Kitto stated, animals in blitzed war areas had been aided from a specially-arranged fund. Eight hundred persons had signed a petition to the British House of Commons asking for better conditions for pit ponies.

A resolution was passed objecting to inoculation, vaccination and chlorination of the city's water. The following officers were elected: Honorary presidents, W. B. Pease, G. B. Kitto; president, H. Hollins; vice-presidents, Mme. Babo-Vivenot, Miss N. K. Wyles; board of directors, Miss D. Kitto, honorary secretary-treasurer; Mrs. J. Stewart, Miss N. Colquhoun, Mrs. M. Bearse, Rev. H. Pate, Mrs. H. E. Landman, J. Corrin and Miss O. Bossi. Committee of ladies, Mrs. J. Iverson, Miss J. Ewing, Mrs. J. Watson, Mrs. E. Boyd, Mrs. K. Skilton, Mrs. N. P. Biandy, Mrs. R. Knight, Mrs. L. Nature Talks

SWEET VIOLETS IN WINTER ANCESTRAL BLOSSOMING

By ROBERT CONNELL

As soon as the garden has become well saturated with the rains of late fall and early winter, the little dark blue flowers of the wild sweet violet appear above their mats of runners and heart-shaped leaves. And so they continue to increase in numbers and length of flower-stalk, ushering in the pleasures of spring at last. It is a wild violet but not a native, indeed, it is not a native of any part of the American continent. Its native home is in that part of the eastern hemisphere which lies about the Mediterranean, east to the Crimea and Asia Minor and so into Turkestan and parts of temperate Asia. To the north it extends to England and sparingly to Scotland and to southern Sweden.

Cultivation has increased the size of its flowers and leaves and stalks, but it is the old-fashioned wild species that persists with us here as a tough winter bloomer. There is a pure white variety of similar size that also appears occasionally with the dark blue, and other color variations are known.

CHOKE COMPETITORS

The long tough runners resembling those of strawberry plants are largely the secret of its persistence and spread in gardens, for by means of them it succeeds in forming netted mats of growth which act very effectively in choking out its competitors. It is a pretty little thing, so welcome in the dull winter days, and has many associations with the past in England. In olden days its little scented flowers were used for medicine, for making sweets, and even as a test of acids as litmus paper is now: The flowers turn red if a little vinegar is poured over them.

One of the most noted of the old herbalists thus quaintly speaks of this little humble plant: "They have a great prerogative above the other violets, not only because the mind conceiveth a certain pleasure and recreation by smelling and handling these most odoriferous flowers, but also for that very many by these violets receive ornaments and comely grace; for there be made of them garlands for the head, nosegays, and posies, which are delightful to look upon, and pleasant to smell, speaking nothing of their appropriate virtues; yea, garlands themselves receive by these the greatest ornament of all cheerful beauty and most gallant grace."

ANCESTRAL BLOSSOMING

This habit of winter-flowering is an interesting and curious one. Of course occasional flowering is exhibited by a number of plants in mild winters. A correspondent tells me of Canterbury-bells bearing flowers this month, and in fact our climate distinctly favors the production of many flowers all winter in protected, sunny and comparatively dry places. But there are certain plants that specially reserve their flowering for these dull moist days.

Certain species of iris, for example, one of an unusually low habit, exhibiting the Wedgewood blue flowers on very short stems every year in January; another of taller habit and with slender almost grasslike leaves blooms from November on.

An interesting example of precocious blooming is found in the peach and in California by the almond which breaks into flower in midwinter, its orchards making great sheets of snowy bloom long before the peach and prune. There as here much depends on the rainy season, and it would seem that early or winter flowering occurs chiefly in the natives of warm dry regions, accustomed as they are to resting until the rains come and then hastening on their flowers, even before their leaves.

Thus we have a perpetuation of ancestral habit in new surroundings, just as we bring old customs with us to new countries.

Infectious Syphilis Increases By 100% In British Columbia

A 100 per cent increase in infectious syphilis during the first six months of 1945 over the corresponding period of 1944 was reported Saturday by Dr. W. C. Mooney, acting director, division of venereal disease control, provincial board of health.

The 1945 statistics, said Dr. Mooney in a report in the February bulletin of the provincial board of health, are causing considerable anxiety to the provincial board of health.

"Only through the co-ordinated efforts of the private practitioner and the division of venereal disease control, can the challenge of venereal disease be realistically met," he said.

"Continued existence of venereal disease constitutes one of the greatest challenges to health authorities throughout the civilized world," Dr. Mooney said. "Despite all previous efforts at control, the world-wide trend of the attack-rate of venereal disease, whatever its basic cause may be, is steadily upward. This upward increase is reflected in our own national, provincial and local venereal disease statistics."

Statistics for 1944, the latest year for which reports are available, showed that the total number of new cases of syphilis and gonorrhea reported in B.C. were 4,737. Of these, 1,379 cases were syphilis and the balance of 3,358 cases, gonorrhea.

"A most important fact, however, was that there were 380 reported cases of primary and secondary syphilis in 1944," said Dr. Mooney.

Adam Bell to Attend Ottawa Conference

Adam Bell, deputy minister of labor for the B.C. government, and vice-chairman of the Regional War Labor Board, will attend a conference with the National War Labor Board and other regional boards in Ottawa, Feb. 26.

Labor Minister George S. Pearson made this announcement today, following notification of the meeting by M. Archibald, chairman of the national board. Mr. Pearson is chairman of the regional War Labor Board for B.C.

Purpose of the meeting will be to discuss the administration of the wages control order in view of the latest amendment.

Mr. Archibald in his wire to Mr. Pearson said he considered it "important that a full representation of chairmen, members and chief executive officers of all regional boards be in attendance."

In Ottawa this week it was announced by Dominion Labor Minister Humphrey Mitchell that control of wages on June 30 would be returned to the provinces.

WEEK-END SCORES

Boston 5, Toronto 3.
Rangers 6, Toronto 6.
Canadiens 5, Detroit 1.
Detroit 2, Canadiens 0.
Chicago 3, Boston 1.

The pace-setters remained "as you were" in the National Hockey League today but the week-end battles saw the Toronto Maple Leafs a vital point further behind in their attempt to get within reach of the playoffs.

The Boston Bruins won one against Toronto Saturday night, and lost at Chicago last night, remaining a point ahead of the Chicago Black Hawks. Canadiens split a pair of games with Detroit, and the Montrealers are still in third place, now a full game behind the Hawks.

But while Detroit was earning a 50-50 break in the week-end clashes the Leafs were able to garner only one out of a possible four points. They lost to Boston by a 5 to 3 score Saturday and at New York last night had to come from behind to get a 6-to-6 tie. As a result Leafs now are five points back of Detroit and that fourth and last playoff spot.

Boston's burly Pat Egan, veteran defenceman, Saturday scored two goals a minute apart to give Boston a lead in the second period. Metz and Stewart had scored for Toronto in the first period and Gallinger and Egan tied it up, then Egan's second goal went in. Church made it 4 to 2 for the Bruins before Taylor got another for Toronto. Then Gallinger made the result decisive.

COME FROM BEHIND

The Leafs had rookie Doug Baldwin in place of Babe Pratt on the defence and Baldwin played a steady game. But Sweeney Schriner and Lorne Carr again were left on the Toronto bench. They were still on the bench at New York last night, when Rangers romped into a 4 to 2 lead in the first period. Davidson opened the scoring for Toronto and then came a succession of Ranger goals from Moe, Laprade, Warwick and Leswick before Billy Taylor counted at 19.19.

Demarco made it 5 to 2 for Rangers before Taylor got his two other goals in the second period. Hamilton tied it up early in the third period. Laprade put Rangers in the lead, then Gus Bodnar tied it at 6 to 6 and after that Leafs seemed content to protect the tie.

At Chicago last night the Bruins and the Hawks were both on the offensive, but Hawks won 3 to 1. Mosienko got the first goal in the second period and Schmidt scored Boston's only goal before Grosso made it 2 to 1 for Chicago. Mariucci scored the only goal of the third period.

The game may have cost Boston the loss of defenceman Jack Church for several games. Church collided with the Hawks' George Gee in the first period and was taken to hospital with a head wound. X-rays were to be taken today.

The Detroit-Canadiens series opened with a smashing 5 to 1 victory for Canadiens on their own ice Saturday.

It was a different story at Detroit last night, when the Wings ended a four-game losing streak by blanking the Habitants 2 to 0. Murray Armstrong and Carl Liscombe were the scorers.

Hoop Games Tonight At Brentwood Hall

Two playoff games in the Saanich and Suburban Basketball League will be run off tonight at the Brentwood Hall.

In the opener, at 8, Luxton and Sooke girls teams will clash followed by a men's tilt between Sooke and West Road.

Jack Herwyman Whips Gordienko In Fight Feature

Jack Herwyman, tall blonde Maritime amateur boxing champion recently discharged from the navy, won a decision over Gordy Gordienko, also a navy fighter, in the four-round main bout of the interservice benefit boxing tournament Saturday night.

Both fighters weighed in at 175. Gordienko, shorter and chunkier than Herwyman, had his opponent against the ropes three times in the first two rounds. In the third, again on the ropes, Herwyman suddenly bounced out, drove two straight lefts to Gordienko's face and from then on took the upper hand. At the end of the third, after taking three more straight blows to the face, Gordienko appeared slightly wobbly.

Herwyman landed more hard lefts in the final round. Gordienko retaliated gamely and got in a left and a right to Herwyman's face in a corner, but was retreating at the final bell.

Fastest fight on the altered card was between Sgt. George Brabant, Regina, army, and Young Anderson, Victoria, navy, at 126 and 125 pounds, respectively.

Referee Millrea stopped the fight and awarded Brabant a technical knockout in the second round as Anderson fell under a hard right from the army fighter.

GOES DOWN TWICE

Both fighters slugged hard in the first round. In the second, they started evenly, but Anderson, his nose bleeding, went to the mat for a count of two after a heavy pounding. He got up willing to slug it out, but took Anderson's hard right to the face and was caught by the referee as he fell.

The show opened with a half-hour westling bout between Stew Harte, 195 pounds, and Gordy Hunter, 178 pounds. Harte got the first and only fall with an armlock to win.

Harold Day, 160 pounds, a navy P.T.I., knocked out Frank Turner, 165 pounds, army, in the second round of their preliminary. Turner stayed down for a count of nine in the first round, getting up as the bell rang. In the second, after a brief exchange of jabs, he went down for the full count.

Frenchy Belanger, army, 145 pounds, won a decision in a three-round battle with sailor Niedermayer, 148 pounds, after some heavy slugging.

Bob Parker, army, 126 pounds, took the decision in another preliminary, from the navy fighter Bayer, 125 pounds.

Ken Robson, R.C.A.F. boxer who recently retired from the ring, joined in an exhibition bout with Jackie Turner, navy, Canadian flyweight champion before turning professional. Turner had been scheduled to fight in the main event which was canceled.

Comic feature of the evening was a pillow fight among four blindfolded huskies.

The band of the King's Own Rifles of Canada provided music.

SIGNAL HILL WINS

In a second division soccer match Saturday, Signal Hill defeated Saanich Indians 2 to 1. Medler and Underwood scored for the army club and Henry for the Indians.

Dominoes Whip Alpines

Baker, Rowe Play Well

"We owe it to them." Those were the words of Manager Dave Nicol of the Dominoes in commenting today on his team's smashing 38 to 35 victory over Seattle Alpine Dairy in an international basketball clash in the Washington city Saturday night. Dominoes had previously dropped two games to the dairymen here.

Nicol stated the Dominoes took full advantage of the big floor at the University of Washington pavilion and had praise for the exhibitions turned in by Norm Baker and Hank Rowe. "Rowe looked at his best since he rejoined the club and is rapidly getting back to his old form," Dave said.

It was an all-Victoria night in Seattle as Hudson's Bay girls won a preliminary from the Seattle Skylarks, 24 to 19.

The Dominoes-Alpines game stared slowly, with no scoring until after the first five minutes, when the Alpines scored to take a 2 to 0 lead.

From then on in the first half the lead changed hands 10 times and the score was tied twice.

With two minutes to go in the half the Dominoes went ahead 18 to 17 and never were behind thereafter. The half-time count was 20 to 17.

The Victoria club took its biggest lead at 35 to 26 midway in the second half and successfully staved off an Alpine rally which, however, closed the gap considerably.

Norm Baker, Domino forward, was easily the outstanding player on the floor and his 20 points were good for high point honors.

Chuck Chapman's ball handling helped Baker on many of his scoring tries.

It was superior speed on the part of the Canadians that told the story. The Alps tried many set plays but Baker and his crew broke them up.

Teams and scores follow:

Alpines — Katica 7, Reed 2, O'Neill 5, Williamson 5, Werner 7, Voelker 1, Watson 4, Hooper 4, Flagg.

Victoria — Jackson, Baker 20, Peden 4, Andrews 7, Chapman 2, McKeachie, Wright, Bryant, Rowe 5.

Hudson's Bay—Peden, F. Kennedy, M. Kennedy 9, K. Trevelyan 2, Rowe 2, Casillo 6, LeLacheur 3, McMillan 2.

Seattle Skylarks — Rickstad, Mitchell 9, Jorgenson 10, Ogee, Sheely, Nugent, Thompson.

RUGBY RESULTS

Saturday's intermediate rugby match saw Victoria College and Naval Cadets battle to a 3 to 3 draw. Nicholls scored a try for the cadets in the first half with collegians coming back in the second period to deadlock the count.

In an exhibition match Brentwood College defeated University School 11 to 3.

Rangers Send Shibicky, Juzda To Minors In Latest Shake-Up

NEW YORK (CP)—The biggest shake-up in a National Hockey League team this season is under way by New York Rangers.

At the bottom of the league standing all season, Rangers will bring up an entire line and a defenceman from New York Rovers of the Eastern United States League, they announced before last night's game with Toronto Maple Leafs.

Two more Ranger regulars in addition to one announced last week were sent down to Providence Reds of the American League to make way for the rookies.

All the newcomers are western Canadians—three of them Manitobans who played together in Winnipeg. They are the high-scoring line of centre Cal Gardner, right wing Rene Trudell left wing Church Russel. Defenceman Hal Laycoe is the fourth Rover to make the jump.

Defenceman Bill Juzda and left winger Alex Shibicky will join the Reds in Providence today on loan for the rest of the season.

VETERANS PLAY DEFENCE

In addition to transfers, a sharp upheaval within the team has taken place. Brothers Mac and Neil Colville both have been moved to the defence, along with left wing Lynn Patrick, older brother of Murray who went to Providence last week.

The Rovers stepping up all are stars and all are young. Gardner, who played one game for Rangers this season, leads the Eastern League scorers with 38 goals and 28 assists for 66 points in 36 games. Russell is second with 24 goals and 38 assists in 34 games, while Trudel is third with 26 goals and 30 assists for 56 points.

Laycoe formerly was coach of the Rovers. He was born in Sutherland, Sask., and is 23. Gardner is from Transcone, Man., and is 22, while Trudell is from Mariapolis, Man., and is 26. Russell was born in Winnipeg and is 22.

Jockey Loses Whip, Borrows One and Wins Steeplechase

CHELTENHAM, Eng. (CP)—A jockey lost a whip, "borrowed" another from a jockey riding in the same race and used it on his mount to win a race by a short head in an unusual steeplechase racing incident here Saturday.

Britain's champion jockey, Fred Rimell, was the rider involved. He won the Stroud Handicap on Poor Flame, a fancied horse for the Grand National next month.

"I thought my mount wanted a reminder after the first circuit, so I drew my whip, but it fell to the ground," he said later.

"I didn't know what to do then, but, as I was shortly afterwards passing S. Pinch, who was on Black Hawk, I shouted to him, 'Do you want your whip? I have lost mine'.

"Pinch threw over his whip to me. I caught it and then went after Suzerain Second. Approaching the last fence there was little in it, but I gave Poor Flame one tap with the borrowed whip. He responded and I just got up. I doubt if I would have won without the whip. That one tap did it."

Wests Win McGavin Cup

Defeat Toppers 3 to 1

Victoria West added the McGavin Cup to their league soccer trophy Saturday by marking up a 3 to 1 victory over the Toppers in a final played in a sea of mud. Greenshirts held a 2 to 1 edge at half time and on the run of the play were the better club.

With both goal areas resembling a duck pond, rather than a football pitch, the forwards had difficulty getting shots away. The condition of the ground favored the heavy Wests and they took full measure of their advantage. The lighter Toppers displayed streaks of smart football but their forwards had no end of trouble with the heavy checking of the Wests' defence centred around fullback Bobby Bell and centre-half Chuck Restall.

Opening goal was registered after 25 minutes, Gordie Cooper, Wests' centre-forward getting his foot to the ball during a goalmouth scramble and picking the corner. Speller shared in the counter by carrying the ball into the goal area. Toppers forced the attack and were able to tie the score, right winger Shubrooke finding the lower corner when he picked up a loose ball after fullback Bell slipped in attempting to clear.

MORGAN SCORES

Just before the interval Wests moved back into the lead again. Noel Morgan took a long pass on the left wing cut in fast and beat Muir in Toppers' goal with a low drive, the greasy ball skidding off the goalie's boot into the net.

Wests added the final counter early in the second half, Speller picking up a loose ball in front of the goal and driving a high shot between the uprights. Just previous Muir was injured when he struck one of the posts in blocking a shot for the corner. For the remainder of the play Wests were content to protect their two-goal advantage.

Negro Cage Stars, Jesse Owens Put On Smart Display

Flashing some of the smoothest ball handling and deadliest shooting seen here this season touring Kansas City Stars treated Victoria basketball fans to a smart performance Saturday night as they waltzed to a 73 to 38 victory over an all-star senior B squad.

Unlike most touring clubs the Stars, an all-negro outfit, showed a desire to play race-horse basketball with the result the fans saw plenty of action. In addition to their court ability the touring players uncorked just enough comedy to give the spectators their share of laughs. In the closing stages the visiting cagers forget their basketball to indulge in some "football" and "baseball" play that brought the house down. They wound up the act by "picking" on the referees much to the delight of the customers.

During the halftime interval Jesse Owens, famous triple Olympic Games winner, put on an exhibition of sprinting and hurdling form, ably assisted by Coach Archie McKinnon of the Y.M.C.A. whom Owens met at the last Olympiad in Berlin. Prior to his exhibition, Owens, a fluent speaker, extolled the part played by the world's youth in the recent war and called on the citizens to provide the younger generation with the best in sports play grounds and stadiums.

Preliminary game saw St. Louis hand the Eagles their first defeat of the season 31 to 27 to open the intermediate B city final. Collegians were down 10 points at halftime.

V.M.D. Defeat Navy 10-2 in Cup Soccer

Driving through for seven goals in the first half and adding another three in the second, V.M.D. blasted the Navy 10 to 2 in yesterday's Phoenix Cup football match at Heywood Avenue. Navy fielded a complete new team recruited from an R.N. ship and the British boys tried hard but were greatly out of condition.

Alec Dallimore at outside left paced the V.M.D. offensive with three goals. Alvin Parks and Doug Peden, the latter moved up to the centre-forward berth from goal in the second half, each fired a pair with Harry Holness, George Payne and Alan Wishart contributing singles. Ken Jones turned in a smart performance at outside right for the shipyarders.

Silkstone drove home the lone counter for the Navy in the first half while Joe Robbins, V.M.D. centre-half, deliberately shot the ball into his own goal to give the bluejackets their second counter.

Tide Badly Off Form In Loss to Vancouver

By STAFF REPRESENTATIVE

VANCOUVER—It was a badly off-form Victoria Crimson Tide that went up against Vancouver Lions on the Brockton Point Oval Saturday afternoon and went down to defeat by a 12 to 6 count—four tries to two—in an important McKechnie Cup rugby clash.

The mainland city's Leos took over the leadership berth in the cup standings as a result of Saturday's victory, the present standings being as follows:

	P.	W.	L.	D.	Points F.	A.	Pts
Vancouver Lions	3	2	1	0	36	32	4
Varsity	2	1	1	0	18	21	2
Crimson Tide	3	1	2	0	25	26	2

Teams in this "Big Three" provincial series play each other twice. Lions have by no means cinched things. Verdicts in future games could very easily result in a three-way tie—if the Tide takes the measure of Varsity here Feb. 16 at Macdonald Park and Dan Doswell's U.B.C. contingent takes the measure of Lions in their next tangle.

Rugby Sidelights

By CAP

Attendance at the Victoria-Vancouver McKechnie Cup battle was not up to expectations by a big margin. Fixture was widely publicized, but the count was only in the neighborhood of 1,000, which included a sprinkling of Victoria ardents. Weather man was in a nasty frame of mind most of the day and officials blamed him for keeping the customers away.

Decked out in brand new uniforms, the Tide could not seem to get rolling like it did against Leos in Victoria in late December. Chief reason was that Vancouver's forwards outplayed the locals considerably.

Doug Reid, sailor and Victoria College player, working at the five-eighths position, gets the nod as the outstanding Victoria player on the field. He played "all out" and was a prominent figure in all the team's forays. Cliff Denham, forward, who is wearing several scars on his body today where cleated boots worked on him, is the choice as No. 1 performer in the front line.

Met Dan Doswell, former Victorian and now coach of the Varsity Thunderbird fifteen which will tackle Victoria here Feb. 16. "I've got a plenty-fast backfield and a solid, hard-working bunch of forwards," he said. Asked whether the coming visit by his team would mean a revival of the prewar highlight sport attraction, a "Varsity invasion," he did not think so, owing to the difficulty at the present time of securing a special boat.

Col. Victor Spencer deserves credit in providing members of both teams and guests with a fine banquet in Spencer's department store dining-room, followed by a special rugby dance, that was well attended, in the Hotel Vancouver. Both were a success, arrangements being in charge of Vic Spencer, the big Vancouver wing forward who stole the spotlight through his 90-yard dash to score. Harry Gilpin, president of the B.C. and Vancouver unions, was banquet chairman. He hoped the dinners would become regular affairs in both Victoria and Vancouver for McKechnie Cup occasions.

In the last half of play, Victoria suffered scoring setbacks through what looked like a questionable decision and forward Bill Gornall's attempt to kick a field goal when it appeared he was a cinch for a touch. Quite a number of fans handy to the play claim Duff McCaghey, fast wing three, touched the ball down before being knocked out at touch by the corner flag.

Mayor Percy George and Mayor Cornett, chief magistrates of the two cities, both kicked off following the playing of "O Canada" by the Vancouver Fire Department Band. Mayor George's kick was a noble effort, while Mayor Cornett's was on the feeble side owing to his shoe making a first contact with the turf.

Other well-known Victorians on hand for the game included Mr. and Mrs. John Baxter, Maj. J. C. MacDonald, president of the Victoria union; Archie Gibbs, Johnny Johnson, Jack Spelman, Ollie Corbett, "Spanky" MacPherson, Ernie Bray, Fred Dawson, Cecil Norman, G. S. Scott, Frank Harrison and H. G. Dalby.

Mayor George, chief guest at the banquet, spoke of this being his introduction to rugger, and how much he enjoyed the game. He lauded Vancouver's effort to put rugby back up on top in the sports picture. In his younger days he was a soccer player. Victoria's best booster, the mayor succeeded in getting his plug in for the city by stressing "Capital City" and "the city of sunshine." Mrs. George and son, Warren, also made the journey as guests of the Vancouver union.

Frank Skillings, another member of the coaching staff, took a beating via his pocketbook. His confidence in the Tide cost him a pretty penny.

In previous years the practise has been to leave the trophy on the shelf of the defending champions, Varsity in this case, in the event of all teams finishing their quota of games on an even footing. But it is the opinion of many in provincial rugby circles that a playoff would be the answer in this postwar period to aid in the efforts being made to re-establish rugby in a top position on the Canadian west sports' front. It is believed that Varsity would gladly agree to put the trophy up for a big-selling attraction like a playoff program.

FADE BADLY

Victoria's crimson - sweatered warriors showed best in the first half of play, but faded drastically in the final period. Tide forwards did not display their usual vigor, lacked the punch they put into the fight when their team rolled over the Leos by a 16 to 6 score just before 1945 became history. Main Tide strength was in the three-quarter line, all members of which played a hard game.

The Vancouver Reps turned in an all-round good, steady exhibition, the forwards besting the visiting side's frontliners by a considerable margin to allow their backfield men more opportunity to use their speed. The team was quick to take advantage of opportunities and actually got its winning points via the opportunist angle.

The score at the interval stood 6 to 3 for the Leos. Outstanding feature of the first half was Vic Spencer's 90-yard solo dash that paid off with the game's opening score. The big, hard-working Vancouver wing forward intercepted a Victoria pass quite close to the Vancouver paydirt line and evaded his only obstacle, Tom McKeachie, to write "successful" to his long run. This came after 20 minutes of hard, even play.

Wing three-quarter "Scoop" Blades of Victoria accounted for the Capital City's three points in the half shortly after Spencer's effort. He beat three men to the ball kicked over the Vancouver line and fell on it. Bill Kinder, Lions' three-man, made his team's other try of the initial period, taking the ball at his feet to within a few yards at the Victoria line, and scooping it up to crash over with two men hanging onto him.

DENHAM SCORES

Cliff Denham of Victoria College who turned in one of the best performances in the forward line made the Tide's score read even with Vancouver's not long after the second half opened. Victoria forwards took the ball deep into enemy territory at their feet and Denham collected it and barged over between the posts.

Marco Gandossi, five-eighths, was the Vancouver gent who provided the points that gave his team victory. Gandossi beat all to a kicked ball over the Victoria line to fall on it for three points. He later intercepted a Victoria pass a few yards out from the Tide posts and scooted over for the game's closing points.

Not a single kick to convert was successful, McKeachie doing the bootwork for Victoria, Danny Holden doing the same chores for the Leos. Most of these attempts were from bad angles, but the heart-breaker for McKeachie was when he tried to convert Denham's try from right in front of the posts, the ball hitting the upright.

Building Inspector's Post Still Vacant

The city of Victoria is temporarily without a building inspector and the public works committee had no recommendation to make regarding a new appointment at today's city council meeting.

Maj. R. C. N. McDonald was appointed to the job to succeed D. K. Kennedy, who took over the position of distict administrator for the Dominion Housing and Mortgage Corporation Feb. 1. However, the day before Maj. McDonald was to take over his new duties he wrote the public works committee stating that he would not be available for the position.

Ald. J. D. Hunter, chairman of the public works committee, stated the committee would review the other applicants for the job and had no intention of receiving new applications.

At the present time C. M. Parrott, new assistant building inspector, and L. J. Eekman, who was officially retired but retained on a temporary basis, are carrying on the work of the building inspector's office.

League of Nations To Meet Once More, Transfer Holdings

BERN, Switzerland (Reuter)—As the United Nations Organization gets into its stride in London, a museum-like silence reigns behind the shuttered windows of the great League of Nations building in Geneva.

The spacious grounds, the lofty assembly halls, the committee rooms and the long corridors are as empty as the broad asphalted roads leading to them.

The premises were kept in repair all through the war and they could be put into use again at short notice. The League buildings will come into their own once more when, in the late spring or early summer, delegates of 44 countries gather for a plenary assembly to wind up the League of Nations and transfer its assets and holdings to U.N.O.

It is suggested here that the archives of the League—the result of 25 years of collecting, classification and study—should be used as a foundation for the U.N.O. secretariat. The registration of treaties and the care of authenticated originals and copies, now in the hands of the League, would also be inherited by the new U.N.O. administration.

The future of the League library, numbering 33,000 volumes, including official publications of all countries, also will have to be decided. It is hoped here that the library will be preserved for the study of international affairs.

The question of transferring the 100-odd members of the League secretariat to the new United Nations Organization has not yet been discussed, but it is felt in Geneva the U.N.O. may seize the opportunity to use experienced "international civil servants" who have worked with the League for years, as the nucleus for its new secretariat.

They'll Do It Every Time

Police Go After 'Light Beaters'

As an experiment to curb pedestrians from "beating the light" at downtown intersections, Police Chief John A. McLellan announced today that starting on Tuesday the bell of the traffic signal at Yates and Douglas Streets would be eliminated for an indefinite period.

"We will try it to see if we can control the flow of pedes- across the lanes. As it is now, they are edging out on the streets before the light changes to green," the Chief said.

"Through this move we are appealing to the public to wait for the green light in the interests of their own safety," he added.

He explained that in some large cities, traffic signals were used entirely without bells, and that the system apparently had proved successful.

"People watch the light when there isn't the bell, and maybe it will work out successfully here," Chief McLellan said.

During the past week, only one bell has been used at the Yates and Douglas intersection but this had not been satisfactory.

It was the hope of the chief that the police department would be able to install in the near future, a fixed public address system at busy intersections, to be used to check law-breaking pedestrians. This had been tried in Vancouver and other large cities.

1ST TILLICUM CUB PACK

Games were played, and there was campfire singing. Billy O'Brian, a former member of the Esquimalt pack, was reinvested, as a member of the Tillicum pack. One year service stars were presented to Billy Barker, John Hill, George Cooper, Don Glass and Doug. Patterson.

NORTH QUADRA CUB PACK

Campfire singing was held around the fireplace. Four cubs were given their "white paint" to wear. Winners of the bird house competition were: Jim Pankhurst, Norman Nunns and Victor Lindell. Cubs are selling tickets for the Scout and Guide circus to be held on Feb. 20 at the Armories.

Artillery Used In Java Fighting

BATAVIA (AP)—British positions in eastern Java were shelled by Indonesians during a weekend of sporadic fighting, a British communique announced today.

Three British Indian soldiers were wounded when an artillery position east of Bringkang was hit by mortar fire, the announcement said.

The Dutch news agency Aneta quoted the Allied forces radio as saying two Indonesian officials were killed by Dutch marines Saturday. An unofficial Dutch source said the two were shot when they were caught looting gasoline stores.

Sir Archibald Clark Kerr, special British emissary, has conferred separately with Sutan Sjahrir, premier of the unrecognized Indonesian republic, and Dr. Hubertus J. Van Mook, acting governor of the Netherlands East Indies, the British communique announced.

Mainguy Commands Uganda Leaving Esquimalt Tuesday

The cruiser Uganda will leave Esquimalt Tuesday on the navy's first postwar extended training cruise, under the command of Capt. E. R. Mainguy, O.B.E., R.C.N., naval headquarters has announced.

The cruiser will steam a port-to-port distance of about 16,000 miles from Esquimalt to Halifax by way of Cape Horn, with additional thousands of miles in training manoeuvres before the ship again sees Canada.

Among those sailing in the ship are 15 seamen office candidates, recently accepted for a year's intensive training aboard Uganda, and 15 midshipmen, who graduated from R.C.N. College last summer.

Itinerary of the Uganda is as follows:

Depart Esquimalt on Feb. 5; arrive San Diego, California, Feb. 8, depart Feb. 11; arrive Magdalena Bay, Mexico, for exercises, Feb. 13, depart Feb. 22; arrive Talara, Peru, March 1, depart March 3; arrive Callao, Peru, March 5, depart March 8; arrive Valparaiso, Chile, March 12, depart March 15; arrive Port Stanley, Falkland Islands, March 22. Thereafter the program will be dependent on the progress of training and operational requirements.

Executive officer of the ship is Cmdr. E. W. Finch-Noyes, R.C.N., of Hamilton, Ont.

Scottish Padre Here Sees Next-of-Kin

On his first visit to Victoria Capt. R. L. Seaborn, action padre of the 1st Battalion, Canadian Scottish Regiment, was a principal figure in a special Scottish service in Christ Church Cathedral Sunday and was busy all today interviewing relatives of the fighting Scots who made the supreme sacrifice on the battlefields.

Captain Seaborn, who was awarded the Croix de Guerre with gold star for distinguished service at the front by the French, arrived in Victoria Saturday and will remain here until Friday when he will fly back to his hometown, Cobourg, Ont.

Regimental headquarters of the Scottish is arranging the interviews with Capt. Seaborn.

On Wednesday night at 6.30 in Bay Street Armory, Capt. Seaborn will be the guest of honor at the Canadian Scottish reunion dinner.

He landed with the unit on the Normandy beaches on D-Day, was wounded, but stayed on to go the whole route with the Scots until VE-Day. Capt. Seaborn is highly respected by members of the 1st Battalion. He was always forward with the M.O. and greatly aided in the stretcher work to get wounded men back for treatment.

Superannuation has been approved by provincial order-in-council for Robert Cahilty, 74, of Kamloops, brand inspector for the department of agriculture. He had been in the government service for 30 years.

Tpr. Norman W. Tipper, second son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Tipper, 2319 Wark Street, of the Sherbrooke Fusilier Regt. (armour), arrived home Sunday from overseas. He landed in France before the end of July, 1944, and went right through action on this front until the "cease fire" order came.

Mackenzie Foresees End Of Job Problem Within 3 Months

The problem of unemployment among Canada's war veterans will disappear in the next two or three months as reconversion and retooling increase the demand for workers in industry, Veterans' Minister Ian Mackenzie predicted in an interview here today.

Mr. Mackenzie said the last estimate he had seen of the number of unemployed war veterans in the Dominion was 23,000, and that the situation was improving.

He said his department had no objection to making public its estimates of the number of veterans out of work, but the reports of the N.E.S. on the unemployment situation were the affair of the Labor Department. (The Victoria Citizens' Rehabilitation Council at its annual meeting recently asked that local reports of the N.E.S. on the number of unemployed, particularly veterans, be made public.)

The veterans' minister said his department was urging unemployed veterans to take advantage of out-of-work allowances.

USE ALLOWANCES

"We provided for the unemployment difficulties in the transition period, which we anticipate will be very short, by establishing the out-of-work benefits," Mr. Mackenzie said, "and we are urging veterans not to live on their savings, but to keep them and use the allowances while they are waiting for employment."

He said the new system of payment of the allowances through the N.E.S. was designed to avoid the "run-around" and to streamline payment.

Veterans were naturally hesitant to leave their homes for jobs in basic industries soon after returning from the war zones, Mr. Mackenzie said.

He added: "It's quite right, and I think they should be encouraged to spend two or three months in their homes before they go to jobs in these industries." He said that many of the jobs now open were not congenial.

Mr. Mackenzie stated an estimated $596,000,000 would be paid out directly to veterans or in their behalf during the 1946 fiscal year, of which $266,500,000 would be in gratuities and $60,000,000 in re-establishment credits.

INVESTING IN HOMES

He said more than $5,000,000 of re-establishment credit already had been used by veterans in purchase and modernization of homes.

"When you consider that in a vast majority of cases this money was an expenditure for down payments only, I think we are safe in assuming that over the past 12 months, Canadian veterans have committed themselves to approximately $30,000,000 either for the purchase or construction of homes in Canada," he said.

An additional 36,272 veterans spent $4,669,783 for purchase of furniture during the past 12 months, he said, and 10,602 veterans used their credits to buy businesses or to provide working capital for businesses and professions. The amount involved was $1,779,503. He said one Victoria war veteran-businessman had been helped by the Department of Veterans' Affairs in this way and now had a business capitalized at $100,000.

ADDRESSING VETERANS

Mr. Mackenzie will address a meeting of veterans tonight at 8.15 in the Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion, hall. He will be introduced by R. W. Mayhew, M.P., and after describing the history and operation of Canada's rehabilitation program, will answer veterans' questions. The meeting will be open to all veterans.

He arrived in Victoria this morning and was a guest of the provincial government at a private luncheon at the Empress Hotel.

Town Topics

Bruce Gladman has applied to Mayor Percy George for a lease for a concession in Beacon Hill Park to install a miniature golf course there.

The B.C. government, through order-in-council, has canceled the reserve on 10 acres of land which the Vavenby Community Club is purchasing. The club will erect a community hall on the property and make provision for recreational grounds.

Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of Veterans' Affairs for the Dominion government, today met Acting Premier George S. Pearson, who is also provincial secretary and minister of labor for B.C., and other members of the provincial cabinet, at an informal luncheon.

The monthly meeting of the Victoria Aged Pensioners' Association will be held in the lower hall of First Baptist Church, Tuesday at 2.30. Lormont Ross, president of the Nanaimo Aged Pensioners' Association, will give a resume of the activities of this association and deal with other matters relating to welfare of pensioners.

Jimmy Yanda, represented by Sinclair Elliott, was remanded until Thursday in city police court today when he pleaded not guilty to a charge of keeping liquor for sale. Edward Phillips charged with selling liquor unlawfully, also was remanded until Thursday. Trial of both men will continue that day.

Suffering from severe head lacerations and abraisions when knocked down by a car at Yates and Government Streets Saturday evening, a 75-year-old pedestrian, George Barrowman, 1720 Emerson Street, was reported at St. Joseph's Hospital today to be resting comfortably. Driver of the car involved was Harry Woo, 553 Fisgard Street, police reported. The man was crossing Government Street at the time of the mishap. Const. Jack Mason and N. Robertson took him to hospital.

War Assets Corporation has informed the City Council that the recreation and canteen building at A.A. Battery, Tillicum Road, has been declared surplus and has offered it to the city for sale.

Birthday celebration dinner of the Dickens Fellowship will be held at the Y.W.C.A., Thursday, 6.30. Toast to the immortal memory of Charles Dickens will be given by H. Sandham Graves. W. L. Llewellyn will be chairman.

A woman taxi driver was fined $5 in city police court today for failing to display in a prominent place a chauffeur's badge. Ten motorists each were fined $2.50 on parking violation charges. Two fines of $1 with $2.50 costs were imposed on radio owners failing to have radio licenses.

City council has been notified by War Assets Corporation that Department of National Defence lease on the Topaz Park property where army hutments were situated, was terminated Jan. 24. This is the property that the city converted into apartments for servicemen, and on termination of the lease returns to the city full control.

Fifteen residents on Croft Street have petitioned Mayor Percy George and the city council for removal of boulevard trees on the street. The petition declared that the ornamental value of the trees had gone, that the roots were lifting the sidewalk, choking sewers and blocking surface drains. They also interfere with street lighting, which is inadequate, the petition said.

The Council of Social Agencies has written the City Council asking that adequate play lots for children be provided in different areas in the city, particularly where new housing projects are being carried out. Mrs. Frances Barr, secretary of the council, stated in her letter that "if a suitable lot could be set aside in each area it is quite probable that the parents of the children might themselves agree to install some simple play equipment."

Deputy Minister Of Welfare Here On Routine Business

Here on routine departmental business today is Dr. George F. Davidson, deputy minister of welfare for the Dominion government. During the morning Dr. Davidson, who was formerly social welfare director for the B.C. government, met W. R. Bone, regional director of the Family Allowance Branch, and later met provincial government social service officers.

Dr. Davidson described his trip as routine and noted that since last in Victoria a year ago, the department's office had been moved and enlarged and the Family Allowance Branch established here.

"I don't have to come here to see what a good job Mr. Bone's doing," he said. "However we keep in pretty close touch with the provincial government."

Dr. Davidson will leave for Vancouver Tuesday noon. He said he would stop over for a short time in Vancouver before proceeding east.

Born in Nova Scotia, Dr. Davidson has spent the greater part of his life on the Pacific coast.

Although now only 46 he has had a brilliant career as a scholar and in various capacities in social welfare work.

AT U.B.C. AT 15

Entering the University of B.C. at 15 with a Governor-General's silver medal for matriculation standing, he was graduated four years later with a record of four undergraduate scholarships and a special scholarship for graduate study.

At 23 he received a doctor of philosophy degree from Harvard and a traveling fellowship in Europe. After a year abroad he returned to B.C. to become superintendent of welfare and neglected children.

In 1935 he succeeded J. H. T. Falk as executive director of the Vancouver Council of Social Agencies and the Vancouver Welfare Federation. He was recalled to the provincial government service in 1939 as director of social welfare, succeeding Dr. H. M. Cassidy.

Dr. Davidson's activities in social welfare have included membership on provincial advisory boards concerned with mothers' allowances, correctional institutions and arbitration under the Residence and Responsibility Act of B.C. He has been connected with studies of juvenile delinquency, welfare of the blind and with Dominion-provincial youth training plans.

Snow, Wind and Rain Victoria's Outlook

Snow, wind and rain are on the weatherman's program for Victoria during the next 36 hours, according to William Burton's forecast from Gonzales Hill this morning. However, indications do not point to the city being the target for heavy snow.

During the week-end Victoria's feature in the weather picture was a hail blitz Saturday night just before midnight with the hail as big as No. 3 size peas and even larger.

Victoria's outlying districts were subjected to a fair amount of snow yesterday, about two inches falling in the Langford district, for instance. Citizens could see lots of sign of heavy snow in the Sooke hills today.

Today's forecast is: Partly cloudy and cold becoming cloudy with snow showers in the afternoon, snow late tonight, moderate winds becoming fresh south easterly by evening.

Tomorrow's prediction is: Cloudy and cold with intermittent snow in the early morning, becoming showers; in the afternoon, fresh south easterly winds becoming fresh south westerly.

The maximum temperature yesterday was recorded at 41, the minimum 31. Lowest temperature recorded on the grass last night was 29. Tonight's prediction is a minimum reading of 34.

Wields Rifle When Wife Caught Smoking

The husband admitted to police he had threatened his wife with a rifle when he caught her smoking, but said he really was not serious.

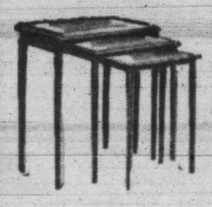

Police rushed to the Victoria West home scene of the "threatening with violence" Saturday evening after a neighboring friend of the wife had summoned them in urgency.

When they arrived, all was serene, and the husband explained:

"The doctor has ordered her to stop smoking and when I found her with a cigarette when I got home, I lost my temper. But, believe me, I was not serious when I brought out the rifle."

Monthly meeting of the Victoria and District Chrysanthemum Society will be held at the City Hall Thursday night at 8.

Political Murders In Poland Cause Trouble in Big 3

WASHINGTON (AP)—Recent political slayings in Poland have returned that country to the list of world trouble spots, and they pose a possible threat to the Big Three unity achieved last month at the Moscow meeting of foreign ministers.

Here is the situation:

1. Foreign Secretary Bevin has expressed concern in the British House of Commons over the political killings and said it appeared the Polish security police were involved in many cases.

2. State Secretary Byrnes of the United States issued a statement Thursday echoing Mr. Bevin. Mr. Byrnes said it was "regrettable" that the police "appear to have been implicated in a number of these cases."

3. Later Thursday, Dr. Oscar Lange, Polish ambassador in Washington, replied to Messrs. Byrnes and Bevin, contending most of the terrorism has been committed by members of an underground organization which he said is directed by Gen. Wladislaw Anders, British-sponsored Polish army commander in Italy.

RUSSIAN CHARGES

Soviet commentators for many months have charged Gen. Anders with fomenting terrorism in Poland and urged that Britain cease financing and supporting his army, which Lange said now numbers nearly 100,000 men.

The army fought as a corps in the British 8th Army in the Italian campaign. Gen. Anders, a bitter critic of the present Polish government and the Soviet Union, has tried to persuade his officers and men not to return to their homeland since VE-Day.

Official British statistics indicate he has succeeded to date. War Secretary John Lawson told the Commons on the day Mr. Bevin issued his blast that only 10.8 per cent of the Anders army had voted to go back to Poland.

Democrats Hold Edge With Younger Voters, Poll Shows

By AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC OPINION

PRINCETON, N.J.—With Congressional elections scheduled for this November, the standing of the two political parties in United States, in terms of popular vote, can today be summarized as follows:

The Republicans continue to face a serious problem in winning a larger share of young voters. In a special survey, the American Institute asked a cross-section of teenagers, from 15 to 18 years: "Which political party do you think is the best in the country?" At the same time, Americans of voting age were asked: "If a presidential election were being held today, which party would you vote for?" Comparison of the political sympathies of the various age groups shows that the Democrats have the edge with the younger people:

	Dem.	Rep.
18-18 yrs. of age	65%	35%
21-29 yrs.	62	38
30-49 yrs.	55	45
50 and over	49	51

The big city vote is still today the backbone of Democratic party strength, outside the south, as it was in the days of the new deal. The Republicans, however, have made headway in the smaller sized cities, with populations of 100,000 to 500,000.

VETERANS DIVIDE SAME

One of the big questions facing political strategists was what would happen to the vote of returning servicemen and women. One popular theory is that veterans, because of the experience they have been through have different political sympathies from the rest of the population. In a special survey among veterans, the institute finds that the average ex-G.I. reacts just about the same way as the rest of the population in his age group. The vote of World War II veterans in this poll was as follows:

World War II Veterans
Dem.	Rep.
65%	35%

It will be seen that this vote compares closely with that of the younger civilian voters shown above.

Spanish Pretender To See Gen. Franco

LONDON (CP) — Don Juan, pretender to the Spanish throne, arrived in London by plane Friday on the first leg of a trip from Switzerland to Lisbon. He is accompanied by his wife, the Countess of Barcelona.

Dispatches from Switzerland said Juan and his wife would spend several weeks in Portugal. His representative said recently the pretender would confer with Generalissimo Franco, and that the conference probably would be held on the Portuguese-Spanish border.

I wish...

I had the talent to write an advertisement worthy of my next picture—OUR VINES HAVE TENDER GRAPES!

I wish I could write an announcement that would cause every man, woman and child—from 8 to 80—in this city to see the picture.

I honestly believe that would make the entire town feel better—happier, more contented, more neighborly.

I wish I could convey in this type the gentle, tender mood of OUR VINES HAVE TENDER GRAPES.

The usual adjectives do not fit this picture. They can not describe the soft, human charm of the school teacher's romance with the country newspaper editor. They can not begin to explain why the farmer (Edward G. Robinson) dreams of a new barn. They can not make you feel the touching love of Margaret O'Brien for her father and her little boy-friend, Butch Jenkins.

No superlatives can express the atmosphere of this movie—from the moment Margaret kills the squirrel to the burning of the barn and the startling church scene.

You MUST see and feel OUR VINES HAVE TENDER GRAPES! Let the spirit of this story enter your heart—and you'll smile and glow for hours afterward!

Yes. I loved the picture and recommend it.

Capitol

MARGARET O'BRIEN, Edward G. Robinson and Jackie "Butch" Jenkins, who have the top roles in M-G-M's "Our Vines Have Tender Grapes," which opens today at the Capitol Theatre. It's the grand story of a child in whose hands lies the fate of entire town.

'A Bell for Adano' Outstanding Film

Following its sensationally successful policy of bringing memorable best sellers to the screen, 20th Century-Fox has filmed John Hersey's Pulitzer prize-winning novel, "A Bell For Adano." The film starring Gene Tierney, John Hodiak and William Bendix opens today at the Atlas Theatre.

From the studio which more than any other is recognized for its painstaking care in transferring great literature into great motion picture entertainment, also have come the unforgetable "The Song Of Bernadette," "The Keys Of The Kingdom" and "A Tree Grows In Brooklyn."

"A Bell For Adano" was directed by Henry King and produced by Louis D. Lighton and Lamar Trotti.

'Hotel Reserve' Now at Dominion

Shadowy figures moving through a dark background are usually associated with adventure. In "Hotel Reserve," at the Dominion Theatre however, producer Victor Hanbury has made a thrilling melodrama against the bright and gay background of a resort in the south of France.

This element adds considerably to the entertainment values of the new film in which James Mason and Lucie Mannheim co-star; the latter was recently seen in "The Yellow Canary." Raymond Lovell, Herbert Lom, Julien Mitchell, Martin Miller and Frederick Valk are among the brilliant stage and screen stars appearing in the cast.

The story is based on the best selling novel "Epitaph For a Spy" by Eric Ambler. John Davenport wrote the screen play, which Lance Comfort and Max Greene co-directed.

Edward G. Robinson In Sympathetic Role

Edward G. Robinson has a completely new type of characterization, sympathetic, warm and understanding, as Margaret O'Brien's father in M-G-M's "Our Vines Have Tender Grapes," in which he is co-starred with the seven-year-old actress at the Capitol Theatre.

Although Robinson's recent roles have taken him out of gangster melodramas, this is his initial part without either comedy or murder. As a Norwegian descent farmer in Wisconsin, his heart-warming relationship with his small daughter is the mainspring of the tender story.

Roy Rowland directed "Our Vines Have Tender Grapes," in which others importantly cast are Jackie "Butch" Jenkins and Frances Gifford.

To Hold Festivals

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP) —This city's drama and music festival, last year one of the largest of its kind in the province, will be held this year May 8, 9 and 10. Several new adult classes have been added to the program.

Beautiful Scenes In 'National Velvet'

M-G-M built a "schooling pen," 250 feet long and 12 feet wide on lot five for the training of horses which appear in the Grand National steeplechase sequences of the Technicolor production, "National Velvet," which stars Mickey Rooney at the York Theatre. Six jumps, including water jumps, hedges and stone walls, were built on the long runway, duplicating the hazards of England's famed Aintree course.

King Charles, thoroughbred jumper purchased by the studio for the "leading role" of The Pie in the adaptation of Enid Bagnold's novel, was trained for three months for the race sequences.

Actual scenes of the race were shot on location.

Hollywood Column

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Twentieth-Century Fox is apparently out to kill actor Cornel Wilde with kindness following the actor's dispute with the studio over choice of roles.

Not only has production chief Darryl Zanuck announced lifting of the suspension which had been placed on the up-and-coming young actor who played Chopin in "A Song to Remember," but the studio has allotted to him one of the choice male leads of the year—that of Bruce Carlton in the film version of Kathleen Winsor's "Forever Amber."

The studio previously had announced that Peggy Cummings, the young British star, would have the stellar feminine role in the costume drama of Restoration days. More than 200 actresses had been considered for the part.

Controversy over the title of the picture to be based on the best-selling novel has not yet been settled apparently, but the studio indicated that if it is prevented from using Miss Winsor's book title on the ground of too much sensational exploration, it will not undertake the production.

Actors come in for veterans' benefits in the U.S., just the same as people, it seems. Veteran Lon McCallister, 22, a promising Hollywood juvenile lead, is one of the first to take advantage of it. He has decided to go to college.

Lon has enrolled at the Actors' Lab, a non-profit laboratory theatre authorized under the education program of the U.S. Veterans' Rehabilitation bill.

"As long as the studio thinks I'm going to be a star," he explained, "I might as well learn how to act."

Another veteran who is going to school is George Montgomery. He will also carry books for his wife, Dinah Shore, which sounds like fun. They're not studying for Ph.D.'s, however; it's all part of their plan for the future.

Dinah and George are going to night school, where George will study architecture and Dinah will learn interior decorating.

Hollywood's Mr. Cinderella these days is Drew Miller, a sergeant in the air force for six years, who was one of the veterans hired for R.K.O.'s "The Dream of Home." When officials saw him on the screen they wanted to sign him to a contract, but he had left the studio and couldn't be found. After four weeks of searching he was located at the Decca plant, where he was pressing phonograph records. Now he is being groomed for lead roles.

'Ministry of Fear' Psychological Drama

One of the most unusual suspense stories ever brought to the screen opened today at the Cadet Theatre. Directed by that master artist of dramatic films, Fritz Long, and adapted from an original story by Graham Greene, author of "This Gun for Hire," Paramount's "Ministry of Fear" is a psychological classic starring Ray Milland as the innocent toil in the hands of a fabulous espionage ring.

Fritz Lang, who directed "Manhunt," "Hangmen Also Die" and "Fury," each of which carved a permanent niche in motion picture annals, handled "Ministry of Fear" with superior skill. The timing is perfect, the allusions of impending disaster are well established and the suspense held throughout.

'Imitation of Life' At Oak Bay, Plaza

John M. Stahl, producer-director of Universal's "Imitation of Life," starring Claudette Colbert, which is now playing at the Oak Bay - Plaza Theatres, has a weakness for snow scenes.

It is seldom that Stahl makes a motion picture in which snow is not seen gently falling outside the windows. "A snow storm," says Stahl, "is unquestionably a beautiful sight, and since screenplays are essentially pictorial, it definitely adds to their beauty when at least a part of the action takes place before a background of falling flakes."

In "Imitation of Life," which is based on Fannie Hurst's famous novel, the inevitable snow scene is on hand.

Seen in support of Miss Colbert are Warren William, Rochelle Hudson, Ned Sparks, Henry Armetta, Baby Jane, Alan Hale and many other fine players.

Support In Final Hour Reduces Losses During Early Trading

NEW YORK (AP) — Stocks generally took the low road in today's market without being subjected to any great selling pressure.

Motors led the retreat after a fairly active opening in which 1,000 to 8,000 share blocks registered. A little support arrived in the final hour and extreme losses running to three or more points were reduced. Here and there plus marks eventuated. Dealings were slow at intervals, but transfers for the full session approximated 1,700,000 shares.

Hiram Walker with a drop of 1⅞ to 112⅛ showed the largest change in Canadians on the big board. Others requested fractional gains or losses or were unchanged. Canadian Pacific was unchanged at 22⅛, Dome Mines unchanged at 28⅝, with Distillers Seagrams up ½ at 100¼ and International Nickel down ⅛ at 41⅝.

Dow Jones averages closed today as follows:
30 industrials 205.84, off 1.13
20 rails 67.59, off 0.59
15 utilities 41.20, off 0.51
65 stocks 77.24, off 0.56
Total sales, 1,660,000.

6 Car Accidents

Drivers and passengers of 12 cars involved in collisions over the week-end escaped injury although damage to the machines in some cases was considerable, city police reported.

Cars driven by R. B. Wilson, 1828 Oak Bay Avenue, and John H. Callow, 35 Lewis Street, were reported badly smashed in a crash at Vancouver and Johnson Streets at 11.25 Sunday night.

Damage was less serious in other accidents involving cars driven by Thomas Watson, 1229 Oxford Street, and Mabel Webb, a taxi driver, at Fort and Douglas, Sunday afternoon; Ralph Hendrickson, 2834 Pine Street, and an unknown driver at Johnson and Broad early Sunday morning; Miss A. Pedneault, 3837 Heath Drive, and Mrs. Louise E. Thompson, 990 Lodge Avenue, on Yates Street Saturday evening; F. W. Potts, 2209 Lydia Street, and G. W. Burr, R.R. 1, Island Highway, at Bay and Shelbourne Streets at 7.30 this morning, and Peter Lou Poy, 945 Pembroke Street, and V. P. Merriman, 997 Fort Street, at Fisgard and Government Streets late Saturday night.

Here for T.C.A.

G. R. McGregor, Trans-Canada Air Lines general traffic manager, and W. J. Dalby, traffic manager, both from Winnipeg, and J. J. Robinson, district traffic manager at Vancouver, this afternoon met directors of the Chamber of Commerce to discuss the air transportation situation here.

Mr. McGregor and Mr. Dalby are on the Pacific coast on a familiarization tour and left this afternoon for Seattle for further discussions.

Grain

WINNIPEG (CP) — Rye futures values on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange again advanced the full 5-cent limit today as new seasonal highs were posted. Buying by local shippers and American houses was in evidence, and although there were recessions from the high at one stage of trading all futures closed at top prices.

At the close May was at $2.39⅛B, July $2.32⅝B and Oct. $1.90B.

Trading was moderately active and of a nervous character with a suggestion of export buying in October futures.

The disposal of 1,500,000 bushels of ground Canadian oats was reported for export following the release of this amount a week ago by the agricultural supplies board.

CHICAGO (AP)—May rye and oats moved in opposite directions most of the time in grain futures trading today despite general inflation and grain shortage talk.

Rye moved ahead around 3 cents a bushel, then reacted under profit-taking to the starting point before climbing again to another 25-year peak price. Oats, meanwhile, couldn't muster support to recover early fractional losses of up to ½ cent.

Wheat, corn and barley closed unchanged at ceilings of 1.80½, 1.18¼ and 1.22½, respectively; oats unchanged to ⅝ lower.

London Market

LONDON (Reuter)—Support for gilt-edged stocks and Mexican oil featured the stock market today.

American interest again was seen in Roan Antelope, Rhodesian Broken Hill and Burma Corporation. Although actual buying ceased around mid-day in these interests, sufficiently good buying limits were left to offset undue falls should local operators become sellers.

Record fur sales for this year caused strong gains for Hudson's Bay, but few shares changed hands.

U.S. BUYERS FOR RYE

WINNIPEG (CP) — United States buyers were active in the rye market today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange and price at the close were within 11 cents of the all-time high of $2.45 a bushel for the May future posted in 1920.

At the close today the May future was quoted at $2.34⅛ bid; July $2.27¾, and October $1.85. All futures advanced the full 5 cents a bushel allowed in a single day.

The United States is the major importer of Canadian rye, both for commercial and export purposes, and there has been a good demand for modest supplies since last November as wheat stocks dwindled.

One Woman's Day

By NANCY HODGES

VANCOUVER VIGNETTES

I SPENT TWO days in Vancouver last week and, as usual when I visit the mainland city, found something to interest and amuse and annoy me.

It was snowing hard on the morning of my arrival and snowed for some hours—changing later to rain.

Walking was anything but pleasant—but I must admit that such little inconveniences were more than compensated by the beauty of the view I got later from the hotel window.

Looking across toward the North Shore, the scene was an unforgettable one as the Lions stood out in their snowy blanket.

OCCUPATION 'VETS'

AS I PASSED the old Hotel Vancouver—the scene of "Occupation 'Vets'"—I was amused at the huge cotton sign hung outside the first story windows. It read:

"Action at Last! Veterans Here Are Rooms For You. Come and Take Them."

Beyond that, there was little visible sign of the occupation forces.

But the next day I happened along just as the last of the "invaders," who took over the hotel a week before, were marching out.

And as I watched their orderly, quiet exit, thought how different it might well have been.

DISTURBING POSSIBILITIES

BY THEIR disciplined, orderly behaviour, the veterans had accomplished their object.

Very quietly but effectively they had cut through the strangling mass of red tape which tied up much-needed emergency shelter.

By doing so they focussed the attention of the authorities upon their plight in a manner which brought immediate action.

Had the "occupation" been less ably handled—both by the veterans in charge of the "invasion" and those who conducted the negotiations on the other side—the situation might well have been fraught with dynamite.

As it is, veterans and their wives will shortly go back into the hotel, backed up by the knowledge that the public is behind them in their fight for decent accommodation.

AN ODD QUEUE

WALKING DOWN Robson Street one morning, I noticed a long queue outside a store across the street.

Several men passing by were commenting on it. "Huh! Stockings, I suppose," said one.

However, I noticed that the sign was that of a wool shop, so my curiosity got the better of me.

There must have been nearly a hundred women lined up. Seeing an old lady come out with a self-satisfied air, I asked what the queue was waiting for.

"Why, wool, of course!" she told me, as if I should have known. "It's three and four-ply."

And of all the line-ups I have ever seen, either in Victoria, San Francisco, New York, Montreal or Washington, that's the first I ever saw of knitters.

FUNERAL ESCORTS

I MUST ADMIT I chuckled when I heard of one Vancouver veteran's rehabilitation idea.

While I was in the mainland city an ex-R.C.A.F. navigator applied to the city fathers for a license.

He wants to start a novel business—that of furnishing motorcycle escorts for funerals!

His idea is that such an escort, by directing traffic, would prevent funeral processions being broken up at intersections.

Apparently they have such an undertaking in Seattle where, so he says, it works effectively.

But the city traffic commission wasn't quite so sure about his suggestion that he be granted the right to wear a uniform like a policeman's.

I don't know what the outcome of his venture will be. But I can't help thinking that it's going to add a little to the already high cost of dying.

OUR REGIMENT

ONE THING definitely didn't please me during my stay in the mainland city.

For it constituted an affront to my Victoria pride and was given by a newsreel.

Scenes of Victoria's welcome to Victoria's own regiment, the Canadian Scottish—were being shown.

Then, just as my chest was swelling with pride at the sight of our kilted heroes swinging along the Causeway, led by Wallace, the narrator hurled this at me:

"And there they go, Vancouver's most famous fighting sons!"

I was so indignant I wanted to stop the show. Of course, those Vancouverites to whom I sputteringly protested later, thought it was a huge joke on Victoria.

But it only confirmed in me an idea I have long cherished—that is to head an Organization for the Education of Ignoramuses Who Confuse Vancouver Island With Vancouver.
